HUMAN FRIENDS HELP MUD-HOBBLED HORSE

MIRED—Jerry Jones, show horse owned by Beth Richards of Atherton, found himself with problems last Friday afternoon, when he ran into a muddy field at the rear of 1940 Camino a Los Robles in Atherton and, as shown, got pretty badly mired. He and another horse, Duke, got out of their pasture at the E. C. LaMontagne residence at 320 Walsh road and, apparently panicked by children who threw rocks at them, ran into the mudhole. Menlo Park Fire District firemen, county sheriff's officers, Atherton police, the county SPCA and employees of the Menlo Circus club worked for several hours attempting to extricate the two horses; finally, a drag line connected to a tow truck operated by John Huss of Menlo Park got them clear. Above, surrounded by well-meaning human friends and with an improvised harness around him to allow safedragging, Jerry Jones is shown as the 50-yard pull to solid ground started. Both horses were uninjured, but largely exhausted from floundering in the goo.

Grade School Tax Hike Seen as Funds Run Low

Laurel School Snags Budget For Maintenance

Preliminary budget studies indicate that the Menlo Park Elementary School District's tax rate may have to be raised to finance operations during the 1956-57 fiscal year, School Superintendent Dr. Melville Homfeld told trustees Monday night.

At the same time, he reported that some of the funds in the current budget are nearly exhausted although the current school year is only a little more than half over.

He termed a rise in the operating tax next year, as compared to this year, a "distinct possibility."

The fund most nearly exhausted in this year's budget, said Dr. Homfeld, is that set aside for maintenance. Most of the conversion work to make two former apartment buildings in Stanford Village into the Laurel school was financed out of this budget, which originally held $30,000 but which is now nearly depleted.

Besides enlarging this particular fund to allow for adequate maintenance of Laurel school in the future, he said, provisions will have to be made for some major repairs have become necessary as the result of long use.

The school district's present tax rate is $1,568 per $100 assessed valuation for general purposes; an additional $.277 per $100 has been budgeted for bond interest and redemption and an additional $.2053 is charged for state retirement.

BIG EXPENSES

Some of the items which it will be necessary to consider in making up next years budget include, according to Homfeld:

1. An increase in the general reserve fund from the present $5000 to at least 10 per cent of the operations budget or to between $50,000 and $60,000.

2. Budgeting for the long-range maintenance program, under which buildings approaching an age where major repairs are necessary can be considered. Such jobs as re-roofing, exterior painting and repaving large areas should come under this category, he said.

3. During the 1956-57 school year, at least one school bus will have to be replaced. This will cost an estimated $10,000 or $12,000.

4. An annex will have to be added to the Oak Knoll school multi-use room, if that building is to house a cafeteria. Such an annex would cost about $5000. Equipment for such a cafeteria would cost an additional $5000.

5. Stage equipment, at an estimated cost of $3500, should be added at Hillview and Oak Knoll multi-purpose rooms.

6. Salary increases are expected to be asked both by certified teachers and by non-certified employees of the district.

Since teachers' salary increases are asked by a committee of teachers, Homfeld declined to estimate how much, if anything, they would be. But they could increase the budget "markedly," he noted.

Besides the maintenance account, Homfeld said that this year's budget items for instructional supplies, fixed charges and administration are "running over" although this was expected last year when the budget was formulated.

There are no major surpluses.

8-Classroom Unit:

CHURCH SCHOOL JOB AWARDED

Contract for start of construction of an eight classroom, $183,000 Church of the Nativity parochial school has been awarded, but actual start of construction awaits actual signing of the document, it was announced this week.

Father Thomas McKeon, parish pastor, said this week that he did not know when the contract would be signed. Contractor-designate John Pursley of Cupertino has been studying the ground, however, in preparation for the start of actual buildings.

Drawings show that the proposed school is to contain eight classrooms, an administration unit, and auxiliary facilities.

News that start of construction was near at hand first came from the office of the San Francisco archdiocese, which announced the contract award.

To Be Ready for Fall:

Bids on 7-Classroom Addition To Oak Knoll Called for Jan. 31

Menlo Park School District trustees have set 8 p.m. Jan. 31 as time for opening of bids on a seven-room addition to Oak Knoll school, in hopes that an early start of construction will mean the new wings will be ready for occupancy next fall.

The date was set as trustees called for bids for construction of the buildings; Architect Kingsford Jones said the contract would be let on a basis of 180 working days to completion of the new wings.

The building was originally estimated to cost about $107,000, Jones said, but added that construction costs have been "in a state of fluex" during the past several months and the actual cost may be as much as 10 per cent above this estimate.

The new structure will be in the form of two "finger" type wings, conforming in outside appearance to existing design of Oak Knoll. However, the interior of the buildings will be developed along more austere lines, with concrete block walls and the ceiling following the roof line.

The wings will contain seven classrooms but the school will realize a net gain of six rooms over its present 12, since a library has been pressed into service as a classroom for the past several years.

Jones said construction may start within five days of the bid opening.

In approving working drawings submitted by the architect, school board Chairman John C. Davenport observed.

"It is the school district board of trustees' obligation to provide buildings in which to carry on the district's educational program, but at the same time to observe all possible economy.

I have asked Jones if he is sure there are 'frills' or unnecessary features called for in the building plans and Jones assures me there are none."

Council Okays Bond Bid for Parking Plazas

More parking plazas for the southerly side of Santa Cruz avenue were brought a step nearer reality at Tuesday night's city council meeting when $126,696 worth of improvement bonds were awarded to the Stone and Youngberg municipal bond firm of San Francisco.

The plazas, which probably will be prepared for temporary parking within the next several weeks, are expected to be permanently paved sometime in the spring, according to city officials. They will be located, in part, on five parcels of land which were awarded to the city in November in condemnation suits, but which the city has been unable to purchase until receipt of the bond money.

The parcels include the Artino property facing Curtis street; the Garibaldi property facing Curtis street; the Bishop property facing Chestnut street; the Garibaldi property facing Crane street; and the Leong property facing Evelyn street.

4 PER CENT

Stone and Youngberg's low bid for the sale of the 24-year bonds included an interest rate of 4 per cent between July 2, 1957 and July 2, 1975; and a rate of 3½ per cent between July 2, 1976 and July 2, 1980. A premium of $29 was offered on the bonds.

Two other San Francisco firms submitting bids to the council were Blair and Company, and Hannaford and Talbot.

Still a subject of negotiation in the city's acquisition of property for the project is a single lot facing Evelyn street, owned by D. D. Graham who until recently was in Alaska.

NEW HOUSE MENACED BY RUBBISH FIRE

Menlo Park Fire District firemen Friday afternoon were called to a new home under construction at Los Robles and Altschul avenues west of Atherton, where workmen had apparently left a rubbish fire burning when they left for the day.

The blaze, only a few feet from the house, was discovered by neighbors.

Architect Chosen to Design Developments in Burgess Park

Menlo Park this week was suddenly nearer to realization of its long-time dream of having a genuine civic center.

After months of discussion and weeks of caucus-session interviews with architects, the city council Tuesday night hired Kingsford Jones, Menlo Park architect, to prepare a master use plan, and to design the units of the civic center.

Earlier discussion already had indicated that the first structure to be erected in the area, just southerly of Ravenswood avenue at Alma street, probably will be a library building. Other units, which are expected to follow eventually, are a city hall and police station and a community center building, providing meeting facilities for local organizations.

FEES DECIDED

Compensation for Jones, whose appointment still must be formalized with signing of an agreement, is to be on the basis of 8 percent of the construction cost of the buildings. Because it may be years, however, before the total project is undertaken, Jones is to be paid, in the meantime, on a schedule covering time devoted to the task.

Jones is expected to meet informally with the council next Tuesday to discuss the project.

Commenting on appointment of Jones, Mayor George S. Ford declared that he is well qualified and, as "a local man with a conception of the vital interests of the community," is more preferable to an outsider.

February Meeting Called to Study Future of 'Village'

The future development of the area now encompassing Menlo Park's civic center and Burgess park, as well as Stanford Research Institute, Stanford Village, Laurel school, and the U.S. geological survey is due to come under scrutiny Feb. 17 when "all interested parties" will gather with the city planning commission and the city council at the latter's informal session.

Representatives of all the firms and agencies within the bounds of Ravenswood avenue, Middlefield road, El Camino Real and Willow road were invited to attend the meeting by the planners who met Monday night.

Object of the gathering will be to provide a round-table discussion of the various problems confronting the future development of the area. Special emphasis will be placed on the subject of future street patterns, according to City Administrative Assistant John Johnson, who presented the planners with a master-plan study-map of the area.

Residents of Flooded Areas Open Campaign for Control of Run-Off

Residents of the Sherman avenue and San Juan lane areas west of Menlo Park were this week engaged in an intensive campaign to secure some sort of flood control for their lands, which were among those hit the hardest during Christmas-time floods.

Last Friday they petitioned the offices of the county manager and county engineer for relief; Tuesday night they joined their voices with those of residents of the city itself in urging some sort of flood control for the south county as a whole.

The area has long been plagued by drainage problems; during the recent heavy rains, some houses were uninhabitable for more than 24 hours.

Spearheading the campaign for action was Joseph Lenahan, 1180 Sherman avenue, who headed a delegation of about 40 residents who last Friday visited County Manager E. R. Stallings and County Engineer M. A. Grant.

He also headed a smaller delegation which visited the Menlo Park city council this week.

County engineers this week were engaged in surveying the area, to determine what grades could be realigned to carry waters more effectively. More meetings are to be scheduled.

Stallings told the residents that the problem was, essentially, an area-wide one and could best be solved by formation of some area-wide agency such as a flood control district.

He said that the area is drained, in the final analysis, by the Atherton drainage canal; this flows through private property and is not under the control of the county.

Residents were told that the area most seriously hit in the floods is in a "drainage basin"

Mrs. D. L. Newport Leaves City Rec Commission

Mrs. Donald L. Newport, member of the Menlo Park recreation commission since formation of that body in 1943, immediately after acquisition of the city's Burgess Park recreation area, stepped down this week amid declarations of regret on the part of community leaders.

Mrs. Newport yesterday told the Recorder, "I will continue to take a deep interest in the recreation department and to work for it all I can, but outside activities are going to take too much of my time to allow me to keep up my work on the commission."

City Acts to Lift Ban on Sunday Sale of Meats

That sale of fresh meat in Menlo Park stores after 6 p.m. and on Sundays and holidays no longer will be prohibited by city law was indicated in Tuesday night's city council meeting when an ordinance was introduced to repeal an old one pased in 1931.

Councilmen have expresed the view that the city has no business regulating hours that a store may sell to customers.

Two persons in the audience protested the repeal of the restriction.

Arno Kanitz, operator of a meat market at the intersection of Alpine and Portola roads, declared that reopening the matter and repealing the measure would be "going backwards, not forwards, so far as progress is concerned."

Dr. James Twohig, veterinarian who declared he had been in charge of a large meat-purchasing operation during the war, warned of danger of spoilage because the health inspection system does not function on weekdays or holidays.

City Manager C. L. Longson was directed by the council to check with the county health department concerning the possibility of such a hazard. His report is to be available before the repeal measure comes up for final adoption and passage at the council's next regular meeting, Jan. 24.

City Gives Up Role of 'Disbursing Agent' As Agreement Boondoggle Snarls Payment

"No more cash bonds!" cried the city of Menlo Park this week.

When approving layout of a new subdivision, the city council always has demanded of the subdivider that he put up cash or a performance bond that such improvements as streets, drains and street lights will be installed according to specifications.

In the few instances where cash has been put up, the city has in the past acted as disbursing agent. Under an agreement signed between the city and the subdivider, the city has paid the contractor for work done as the City Engineer reported it was satisfactorily completed.

This should have been the way it worked in regard to the improvements being put in at August Terrace, subdivision of the Bulotti property between Oak avenue and San Francisquito creek. But it hasn't, the council was told this week by Bauman Brothers, paving contractors.

The pavers revealed that payments to them are two months behind, and the city still has all the money.

City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr. explained that, in this case, the agreement had

'Blue Crutch' Day To Be Noted Saturday in Menlo

In conjunction with the San Mateo county March of Dimes, American Legion units will participate in a countywide "Blue Crutch Day" on Saturday, Jan. 14, it was announced this week.

The drive in Menlo Park will be supervised by members of Menlo Park post 443, but the actual solicitation will be conducted by Boy Scouts of Troop 107, which the post sponsors.

"Blue Crutch Day sales have been successful on local levels, according to March of Dimes officials," according to Joe Kelly of post 443, in charge of the campaign here.

"In time vaccination will stop polio, but in the meantime thousands of polio patients need care and treatment," he added.

Discussion Set for Jan. 23:

Planners Slate Study on Professional Zone Changes

Action on amendments to zoning requirements for the professional-administrative area of Linfield Oaks, was deferred for further study by city planning commissioners Monday night after representatives of several of the area's firms expressed themselves on the proposed amendment.

Commission Chairman Guy Plaisted scheduled the matter for the study meeting of Jan. 23 "in order to try to incorporate the ideas expressed" into the working of the resolution. The item is to be placed on the agenda of the planners' next formal meeting, Feb. 6.

The planners have been studying changes which would call for a three-acre minimum lot size, 30 per cent maximum ground coverage, underground utilities and a limit of "one occupancy" to each parcel of land.

GREATER NEED

Asking that the planners give further consideration to the matter were several speakers in the audience representing area business firms including Sunset Magazine, whose views were expressed by Melvin P. Lane. Adequate parking space ought to be of prime consideration, he said.

"Perhaps also there ought to be a requirement that a certain percentage of a firm's land be devoted to landscaping," Lane suggested.

Claude T. Lindsay company representative Ray Lindsay commented that the "one occupancy" clause is a definite discouragement to land developers because then only the "upper brackets" of industry can be considered.

Two other resolutions to amend the same ordinance gained the recommendation of the planners. Commissioners agreed that the height of apartmeat buildings ought to be limited to 2½ stories instead of the present "unlimited" allowance.

A lot adjacent to Draegers market at Evelyn street and Menlo avenue also ought to be changed from "residential" to "off-street-parking," according to the planners who noted it has already been put to use for the latter's purpose.

In Atherton:

SAFE START

There have been no traffic accidents reported in the town of Atherton since the start of 1956, Police Chief Leroy Hubbard reported at noon yesterday, 252 hours after the start of the new year.

According to the police blotter, he said, there haven't been any "fender benders" reported, although three drunken drivers have been arrested since the start of the year.

Although the law of averages would seem to indicate that some sort of an accident has to happen some time, the chief noted that, if everybody's careful, the town can beat even that ancient regulator indefinitely.

Tight Time Schedule:

Fire District Asks Permission To Use 'Old No. 2' Until April

Menlo Park Fire District Commission Monday night asked the state division of highways for permission to occupy the district's present number 2 station at 2084 Manhattan avenue until April 1, or about 60 days longer than anticipated when the district sold the property to the state early last year.

The district made its request since completion of a new East Palo Alto station is not expected until about March 15. Work on the new unit, at University avenue and Runnymede streets, is going ahead on schedule, the commissioners were told by Chief George Carter.

In the original sale agreement, the fire district was asked to be ready to vacate the present station on Feb. 1.

The highway department has not pressed for strict adherence to this condition, however.

In other actions, the commissioners:

1. Heard a report from Chief Carter on activities of the firemen during recent storms and floods, and issued a commendation to all district personnel for their work in preventing property damage where possible, and loss of life;

2. Authorized purchase of a hose drier and new furniture for the new East Palo Alto station.

They also confered with District Architect Leslie I. Nichols, who reported that he would have plans for classroom and shop facilities at headquarters station ready for their perusal at the commissioners' meeting next month.

No date for calling for bids for the new units has been discussed.

Mormon Church Use Permit Hearing Set

Plans for the Menlo-Atherton ward of Church of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) for the establishment of a permanent church site at the corner of Arbor road and Valparaiso avenue took a step forward Monday night when the Menlo Park planning commission scheduled for public hearing on Feb. 6 a request for a use permit by the church.

The use permit is to provide for construction of a church and church buildings on the Wreden property, which is adjacent to the St. Raymonds Catholic church grounds.

The 900 member ward proposes to purchase the 6600-square foot home of William Wreden which stands on the property in order to convert the residence into a temporary chapel until the permanent church is completed. The home is to be purchased for $89,000.

Bishop of the ward, Keith Garner, estimates that the permanent church will be completed in about two years.

Bid Opening Next Week:

Contractors Show Interest in Proposed Metal, Wood Shop at Menlo-Atherton

Six area contractors have shown interest in the pob of constructing a shop building at Menlo-Atherton high school, bids for which are to be opened at 4 p.m. Jan. 20 by Sequoia High School District trustees.

This was announced this week by Arthur Janssen of Janssen, Daseking and Keller, the architects. The six have already indicated they will submit proposals, he added. Bid opening will be at the Superintendent's office at Sequoia high school.

The shop building, which will be 62 by 113 feet in its outside dimensions, will cost "somewhere in the neighborhood" of $60,000, the architect estimated. To be known as building R, it will be situated to the east of the present music building on the Menlo-Atherton campus.

Janssen said plans call for concrete block construction, with steel bents supporting the heavy timber roof. It will be similar in appearance to existing buildings at M-A.

Space will be provided for one metal shop, a wood shop, a lumber storage room, a welding area and a projects storage office.

No equipment is included, under the present contract.

'Quiet Type,' Friends Say:

Alleged 'Howling Dog' Vindicated Before Council

Menlo Park's "case of the howling dog" came to a happy climax for the dog, "Dutch," Tuesday night at the city council chambers. Councilmen ruled in favor of Dutch's owner, Morton Baruh of 1340 Arbor road, after hearing defense lawyer Martin Field's arguments in behalf of the controversial animal.

Cinching the case, councilmen declared, was the report by Poundmaster Luchien LaCroix, which stated that only once since June 16 until this date was a dog's bark ever heard in the neighborhood by police who had carried on investigation checks on a 24-hour basis.

The last petition complaining of "excessive barking" was presented to the city council at its Dec. 20 meeting and was signed by several of Baruh's neighbors, including Captain and Mrs. Howard Hutchinson of 1327 Johnson street; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jakobsen of 1325 Johnson street; Charles Rhein of 1327 Johnson street; and Louis Giannini of 1045 Valparaiso avenue.

HE'S 'PHLEGMATIC'

Field listed evidence to back up his statement that "Dutch is not a dog inclined toward exeessive barking; he is, in fact, a pointer type and phlegmatic."

Neighbors of Baruh (Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Willard of 1075 Valparaiso avenue) were quoted by Field as having declared that Dutch was not considered by them to be a nuisance.

"The issue is not just the matter of a dog," Field pleaded; "it is also the love of a pet which is involved."

None of the signers of the complaining petition appeared at Tuesday night's council meeting. Mayor George Ford dismised the case in favor of Baruh, saying that "it would appear that the petition is unsupported and that Mr. Baruh has been put to a great deal of trouble."

Planners Refuse Okay of Plan For Rezoning

With a vote of five to one, Menlo Park planning commissioners Monday night refused to pass a recommendation of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Philbrick of 731 Valparaiso to rezone a portion of Paraiso Park which would allow for the construction of apartment buildings in an area presently restricted to single family residences.

Reasons advanced by Philbrick did not seem sufficient for such a re-zoning, planners said. The request was sent back to the city council with the recommendation that the proposed rezoning "not be made."

Reviewal of the city's master plan from 1949 was held over until the next planning meeting in accordance with a suggestion by City Attorney James O'Keefe in order that it might be determined whether or not a public hearing should first be held in accordance with law.

Snag in County Program:

School Board Weighs Advantages Of Owning Supplementary Texts

Trustees of the Menlo Park Elementary School District are to decide Jan. 23 whether or not to continue participation in a county library program to supply supplementary reading materials to the schools, even though the county board of supervisors has called for a hike in the cost of such a service.

If the trustees decide to drop the program, funds which otherwise would go to the county will be used to finance the start of a school district library here; if they decide to continue with the program, the district will have to pay $100 per "teacher unit" to the county, as compared with the $75 now paid.

A "teacher unit" is considered to be one teacher and a classroom of 35 children; the district has 80 of these at the present time and will have more next year, according to District Curriculum Consultant Paul R. Stouffer.

The trustees deferred decision on whether or not to drop the present program until firm cost figures could be worked out and until advantages and disadvantages could be more carefully weighed.

So recent was the supervisors' action raising the rate for participation, said Stouffer, that he had not had an opportunity to calculate how much it would cost district, if anything, to establish a library of its own.

He explained that, for the past several years, the district has been paying the county the $75 per teacher unit and in return has been enabled to borrow, from the county library, reference books, readers and dictionaries.

WIDER SELECTION

These volumes were rotated among several school agencies in the county participating in the program.

However, he said, the County Superintendent of schools has indicated that his office will, in future, be in a position to supply some supplementary texts; in addition the need for such reading matter is being attempted, somewhat, by the fact that the district is expecting some new textbooks from the state.

The district may also be able to purchase some of the books which it currently borrows from the library as a participant in the program, if it withdraws.

He also pointed out that, if the school district sets up its own library of supplementary reading materials, teachers are more apt to use them than under the present set-up, which entails trips to Redwood City for inspection and selection of materials.

START OWN

School District Superintendent Dr. Mel Homfeld pointed out that the district is hoping, sooner or later, to get adequate libraries at each school and pointed out that money saved from non-participation would "go a long way" toward building these up.

Most larger districts in the county have already withdrawn, he said.

The trustees would have to pass a resolution withdrawing from the program before Feb. 1, Stouffer said. But he urged that they wait until as late as possible to give the fullest possible considerations to the ramifications of their action.

Political Parties Open Joint Signup Canvass

County central committees of both major political parties this week issued an appeal to the area's service clubs to join in a drive to register voters, of whatever political faith, so that results of 1956 elections may represent a true reflection of the will of the people.

A letter signed by John W. Dinkelspiel chairman of the Republican party central committee and Melvin E. Cohn, chairman of the Democratic central committee, was in the mail this week It urged interest organizations to contact Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, 560 Dolphin drive, Sharp park, for details and suggestions as to how to run such registration campaigns.

"Because of the large influx of population into the county," the letter said, "registration of voters has become a problem of major proportions. Both of the major political parties are vitally interested in seeing that the greatest number of citizens who are qualified both register and vote. The results of any election should be an expression of the will of all of the people and not just that of a small minority. . . .

"We feel that through the efforts of one, or more clubs in each locality successful registration drives can be made in each community."

Music Teachers To Meet Sunday

Two Menlo Park area music teachers will be among members of a panel which will head discussion of "When is a Child Ready to Play a Stringed Instrument?" when the Bay Area unit of the American String Teachers association meets Jan. 15 at Stanford elementary school.

The two are Jerry Cooper, instrumental music teacher for the Las Lomitas School District and Edward Brown, Menlo-Atherton high school music instructor.

Announcement that the two would serve on the five-person panel was made by Miss Louise Landen, president of the bay area unit. Brown is a vice-president of the same group.

The meeting, which is to start at 2 p.m., will also include some musical selections by students of Paul Pesnjarsky, Menlo Park music teacher.

Edward S. Prentice Joins SRI Staff

(SRI) — Edward S. Prentice, former deputy director of the U.S. aid mission to the Philippines, has joined the economics staff of Stanford Research Institute.

Dr. Weldon B. Gibson, director of economics research, in announcing Prentice's appointment to the senior staff said that he will be active in the Institute's international research program and area development studies.

Prentice recently returned from three and a half years in the Philippines as deputy director of the technical assistance mission where he helped administer the aid program under the International Cooperation Administration. He was active in rural rehabilitation programs, spending much of his time in the provinces.

NAMED MANAGER

John D. Morton, 611 LaMesa Lader, has been appointed manager of Norney's toy stores, which will open a Stanford shopping center branch about Feb. 15, it was announced this week. Harry H. Haehl Jr., president, announced the appointment.

Atherton AGC Head Sees Boom

Paul A. Elsner of 175 Green Oaks drive, Atherton, general manager of Swinerton and Walberg company, construction firm, in his added capacity as the president of Central California chapter, Associated General Contractors of America, Inc. today released a very optimistic and economically important annual construction review by stating the construction activity for 1956 is headed toward a stimulating $60 billion.

This will top, according to Elsner, all previous records for ten consecutive years.

The Central California Chapter of AGC, which Mr. Elsner will direct as president for 1956, is an association of the pre-qualified and bondable general contractors from Bakersfield to the Oregon border.

Dr. Weissman Gets Optometrist Office

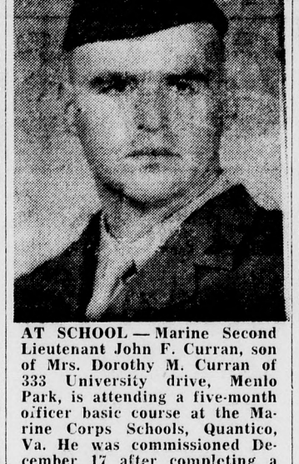

Dr. Irving Weissman, Menlo Park optometrist, will Jan. 16 be installed as secretary-treasurer of the San Mateo county Optometric society, at a dinner meeting scheduled to be held Jan. 16 at the Belmont Casino.

Dr. Weissman will serve for the remainder of 1956.

The local man, who will be a member of a slate of officers headed by Dr. Robert Rosenberg of San Mateo who will take over the president's gavel, has long been active in Menlo Players' Guild and Menlo Park Kiwanis club affairs.

Live Oak District Readies Observance Of Scout Week

Live Oak District Boy Scout, Cub Scout and Explorer Scout units are currently working on plans for the annual observance of Boy Scout week, to be held nationwide during the week Feb. 6-12.

All units are working on projects which will allow their members to participate in the observance, it was announced this week from county council headquarters in Burlingame. Many units are planning parents' nights, open houses, and birthday dinners, since the week notes the 46th anniversary of Scouting.

Countywide, the B'nai B'rith will sponsor a window display contest; locally, however, no list of entries in such a contest has yet been formulated.

Scout Sunday and Scout Sabbath will be observed in churches and synagogues on Sunday, Feb. 12 and on Friday evening, Feb. 10, respectively.

Boy Scout week will also mark initiation of Scouting's new four-year program, "Onward, for God and My Country" will become the Scout movement's theme.

Teachers Invited To Dance Meets

Menlo Park area elementary school teachers have been invited to participate in a course in "Intermediate folk dance for elementary schools" being presented Wednesday evenings at Louis Barrett school in Belmont. Mrs. Neva Duncan of Menlo Park is the instructor.

The course is being presented under the auspices of the San Jose State college extension services. Two units of credit are allowed.

SEEK TELEPHONE FOR SCHOOL HERE

Student council at Menlo Oaks school is investigating the possibility of having a public telephone at the school.

The students decided to seek a solution to the problem because office phones are sometimes tied up for long periods, according to the students.

INVITED TO DINNER

Eagle Scouts residing in the Live Oak district of the San Mateo county council of the Boy Scouts of America have been invited to participate in the second annual Eagle Scout recognition dinner, to be held Feb. 7 at the California Golf club in Millbrae.

School Trustees Place Limits On Pupil Trips

Two seventh grade classes were Monday night granted permission, by the Menlo Park School District board of trustees, to use district buses for transportation to San Jose for a visit to the Rosicrucian Egyptian museum.

But, while okaying the bus trip for older children, the trustees decided that they better not establish a precedent by granting permission for a third grade class to leave school early for a trip to the Morrison planetarium in San Francisco.

Even if transportation to the latter destination was provided by mothers, the trustees agreed, some limit had to be set somewhere. They suggested that the trip be postponed until a Saturday.

The two seventh grade classes which got permission for the southerly journey were Hillview school classes under instruction of Ray Cruickshank and Mrs. Yvonne Weiberg.

A sixth grade class from Oak Knoll, under instruction of Richard Key, was given permission to travel to San Francisco for participation in one of Dwight Newton's "Schoolcast" broadcasts also.

But, the trustees decided, the third graders, who had petitioned to leave the delineated "trip area" between San Mateo and Sunnyvale would have to be turned down this time.

The class, under instruction of Mrs. Doris Goertzsen of Encinal school, will probably reschedule their trip to a Saturday, according to Principal Mrs. Ina Porter.

Postal Employees Get Awards For Safe Driving

Three Menlo Park postal employees have received National Safety Council safe driving awards, in consideration of no-accident records during the past several years.

This was announced this week by Blanche Wheeler, assistant postmaster at the Menlo Park post office, 570 Oak Grove avenue. The drivers to receive the awards include:

William F. Kennedy, with the local office for the past five years; James Garcia, parcel post deliveryman who has been with the local office for the past four years and William McLoughlin, with the department for the past seven years.

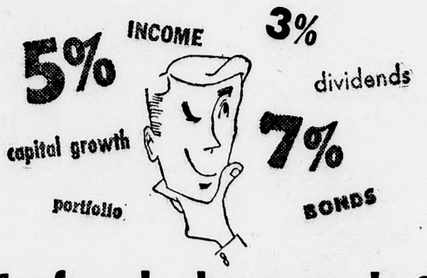

The Menlo Park post office runs a total of eight truck, Mrs. Wheeler explains, and there have actually been fewer accidents than would seem to be indicated by the fact that only three drivers received awards. However, these men have been driving continually since institution of a nation-wide postal safe-driving program in 1954.

The awards are for an eighteen-month period.

TALENT AT ENCINAL

Student body meeting at Encinal school tomorrow will feature a talent show, officers of the student body announce. Thus far, the program is scheduled to include comedy routines, dancing, and barbershop quartet workouts. The show gets underway at 1:15 p.m.

Confused about stocks?
Many people who come to our office don't buy stocks—not on their first visit, anyway. They come because they want to ask questions about stocks, or dividends, or capital growth, or some other aspect of investment that has caught their interest.
We answer all their questions as fully—and as courteously—as we can. Some of the answers set our visitors thinking. Often it turns out that someone who came just for information will invest in stocks later, because he liked what he learned.
If ever you have any questions about stocks, come in and put them to us. We make no charge for answering questions. Our job is to help you—not to high-pressure you—and that goes even if you just want to talk things over.

Stanford Research Hired for Study Of Rapid Transit

Stanford Research Institute was engaged by the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit commission to undertake the study of certain financial and organizational problems relating to the proposed rapid transit system.

These problems, though closely related, are outside the scope of the engineering studies on the system which have been undertaken for the commission. The Institute's study has been in progress during 1955 and is due for completion by Feb. 29, 1956.

The purpose of this research is to provide a factual basis for decisions and recommendations which the commission may make regarding the financing and organizational structure of the rapid transit system as it has been designed by Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall, and Macdonald.

The objectives of the study are (1) to determine and compare practical methods of financing original costs, working capital, and operating deficits (if any) of the proposed rapid transit system, and (2) to prepare basic data pertaining to alternative administrative structures required to create the proposed system.

The Institute's report, among other things, will present the advantages and disadvantages of a district-wide organization covering the entire area to be served by the transit system; it will compare this approach with county-by-county or city-by-city agencies integrated into an inter - urban transit system.

The district form of organization will also be compared with the transit authority form in the light of experience observed in a number of metropolitan areas.

Other related subjects to be considered by Stanford Research Institute will be the possible need the availability, and the problems of outside financial aid for the transit project; cooperative arrangements among traffic and transportation agencies, and a review of the methods followed by other metropolitan areas in dealing with financial problems of major transit programs.

Oak Knoll 6th Grade Class In Broadcast

The sixth grade class of Richard Key at Menlo Park's Oak Knoll school goes "on the air" next Friday morning, Jan. 13, when they appear on Dwight Newton's "Schoolcast" (station KEAR, 9:30-9:45 a.m.) to help present a program on Alaska.

The topic was the idea of the class, now studying Alaska in their social studies. A letter suggesting it, written by Karen Kinsley, brought acceptance and an invitation to aid in its presentation.

Key's classes have always been active participants in the "Schoolcasts." Last year, his sixth graders appeared on Newton's broadcasts twice.

Last spring Newton came to Oak Knoll school to tape record a program the class had created on the subject of American air bases being built in Spain.

Sixth graders who are scheduled to read questions over the air for Mr. Newton's Friday broadcast are: Jim Jacobsen, Bicky Kopf, Susan Valley, "Biff" Mudd, and Carol Mitchell.

The children will be transported to KEAR's San Francisco studios in private automobiles driven by parents.

Ravenswood Board Sets Election Dates

Election time is rolling around once more.

At the first January board meeting, the Ravenswood Elementary School district trustees set April 18 as the date for the annual school election.

Chairman Fielding McDearmon and trustee Joseph Violette will each complete their term of office. At that meeting both indicated that they would not file for another term of office. First day for filing is March 1 and final day for filing is April 13.

Under a new legislative law passed by the 1955 state legislature, the county superintendent of schools is now authorized to handle all school elections, thus cutting costs to school districts.

However, it was pointed out by Superintendent Stanley O. Schnepple, the load on Superintendent James Tormey would be too great and since he is entitled to deputize school personnel as district superintendents, acting for him, he suggested that Harold Napper, RESD business manager, and Philip Smith, assistant administrator be named to these positions for this district.

The board concurred.

Big Ones, From:

LITTLE ONES

Menlo Park police are still looking for the person who has apparently figured out how to make a $1 bill do the work of a $10.

This particular culprit, reports Police Chief George Potter, ears the corners off a bonafide $10 and pastes them on the $1 bill. It may seem crude, he says, but one Menlo Park lunch room operator got stuck with one such bill Sunday.

The $10 bill, without corners, is still legal tender even though mutilated, he advises.

Two Arrested on Driving Counts

Atherton police arrested two out-of-area motorists on charges of drunken driving during the weekend just past. Both were arrested as they proceeded south on El Camino Real.

First to be nabbed was Harry Orville Baker, 46, of Fairfax. He was observed driving south on the highway at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, and was unable to keep his car in one traffic lane, the officers reported.

Second driver to be arrested was taken in at 2:15 a.m. Monday. He was Winifred G. Chapman, 38, of Redwood City and, police said, he was operating his car in a "jerky and uncertain manner."

Dolwig Declines Comment on Opponents' Blast

Twenty-sixth district Assemblyman Richard J. Dolwig of Atherton this week declined to comment on the announcement of a San Carlos city councilman that he intended to seek the Democratic party nomination to run against the Republican incumbent.

Because of illness in his family, Dolwig said, he has not had time to consider the announcement made last week by James D. Price the challenger. Dolwig, an attorney whose offices are in Redwood City, has been a member of the legislature from this county for the past 10 years.

Price said in announcing his candidacy that he has decided not to be a candidate for re-election to the San Carlos city council, but will submit his name to the county Democratic convention Feb. 25 for consideration as a candidate.

Price was one of two councilmen in his home city who was not removed in a recall election last month.

He is a cost accountant for Lenkurt electric company, and ran for his present office four years ago on a platform that called for minimum taxes, exemption of the industrial area, expansion of city recreational facilities and an effort to solve the downtown parking problem.

He voted against an assessment and tax rate increase in San Carlos last summer, and was therefore not named in the recall election.

In announcing his candidacy he said:

"It is my observation that the incumbent assemblyman from the 26th district has done an outstanding job of representing San Francisco and other metropolitan counties, but has done little that is concrete for San Mateo county.

"His constant sabotage of a southern, low-level crossing over San Francisco bay, which is the only practical and economic type of crossing that would be of any great assistance to San Mateo county, amply illustrates the above criticisms."

CTA Skeds Drive For Funds Here

Collections for the California Teachers association's drive for funds to be used for reconstruction of the 95-year-old red brick school house at Columbia Historic State park will be conducted March 5 through 9 in the Menlo Park Elementary School District, it was announced this week.

The school district's board of trustees has approved the acceptance of small donations from pupils to aid in the building reconstruction. Such donations have also been okayed, on a statewide basis, by the state legislature.

Restoration of the school, which was originally put into service in 1860, is expected in time for its centennial.

PRINTING WEEK PROCLAIMED

INTERNATIONAL PRINTING WEEK, Jan. 15 through 21, is proclaimed in Menlo Park by Mayor George Ford (right) as he signs proclamation to that effect presented him by F. H. King (left) in behalf of the Peninsula Graphic Arts association. Purpose of the week-long observation, according to the proclamation, is to perpetuate the principals of Benjamin Franklin, "the Father of Printing." The association also hopes "to promote good will by bringing graphic arts organizations into more understanding relationships, and to encourage young people to select careers in the printing industry," King said. Jan. 17 is the 250th birthday of Benjamin Franklin. —Recorder photo

Argonaut Office Plan Okayed By City Panel

Signs of continued growth in the city's professional-administrative zone was in evidence Monday night when the Menlo Park planning commission met to recommend approval of a request by the Argonaut Insurance Exchange of San Francisco for a use permit to construct an office building at Middlefield road and Santa Monica avenue.

The offices will eventually house some 50 employees, according to the company's present estimates.

The planners made the recommendation with the provision that the insurance group be advised of the growing parking problems which other professional firms in the area are facing and that consideration be given to the possibility that business expansion may lead to the need for a greater parking area than is currently planned.

In other action Monday night planners granted a request by the Menlo Park Presbyterian church to construct two residences for church school and nursery school purposes. The structures are to be built at 1148 and 1158 Johnson street.

99 City Residents at Sequoia Hospital

Ninety-nine Menlo Park residents were among the 995 persons admitted to Sequoia hospital during December, it was reported this week in the publicly-owned facility's regular monthly statistical summary.

Fifteen Atherton residents and 11 persons residing in the Woodside portion of the hospital district were also admitted to treatment.

A total of 1185 persons received treatment during the month. The hospital had 170 patients on Dec. 1, to which the new admittees were added.

The hospital was the scene of 147 births, 19 deaths and 135 major operations.

Brothers Charged In Clothing Theft

Two Menlo Park brothers, who were caught after allegedly stealing clothes in the Menlo School and College basketball pavilion, have been placed in Hillcrest detention home on the charge of petty theft, according to Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard.

The youths, 16 and 17, admitted at least one previous theft at the pavillion, the chief stated, and their past records show mail stealing for the younger boy and release on probation from Hillcrest for previous thievery for the older one.

The younger brother was spotted by Bob Wuesthoff, student equipment manager, according to Hubbard, as the former was climbing out of a window with a coat and shirt.

Running away, the 17 year old, stationed as look-out, returned to the scene when he saw hs brother being detained.

8 MP Dentists May Attend Meet in SF

Eight Menlo Park dentists are among alumni of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of San Francisco, which opens its 57th annual alumni association meeting today at the college campus, 344 14th street.

The two-day meeting is to feature lectures and demonstrations by nationally-known authorities in the field.

Local dentists who may attend include Dr. Harry Foley, Dr. Shirl Fox, Dr. Norman E. McFate, Dr. Willis W. Nelson, Mr. George M. Peters, Dr. E. N. Sikeotis, Dr. William F. R. True and Dr. Harold E. Wilcoxson.

Last Vacant Lots Going:

Final Portion of Lindenwood Area To Be Developed in Near Future

Transformation of the fabulous James Flood estate to modern gracious living will soon be completed when the final section of Atherton's Lindenwood development is completed.

Little remains to give testimony o the 19th century concept of living splendor created by Flood, which included the largest Peninula mansion complete with 40-ar turn table garage and duck onds. Today, Lindenwood, or Linden Towers as it was originally known, has given way to modern modes.

Flood, who was noted for his practical financial manipulations, would probably nod approval to the approximately 400 homes in the $45,000 bracket that have arisen on the nine separate developments since the original sale by the Flood heirs to the firm of Hare, Brewer and Kelley in 1934.

Little happened to the Lindenwood development during the depression. Not until after World War II did the Flood land finally begin to take shape.

Now 10 years later the final parcel of land is being constructed. Like most elegant projects, the best is saved for the last. Only 24 homes, strategically located in cul-de-sacs adjacent to Catalpa drive and Irving avenue, will be built on the 24-acre site.

The homes have been created by Alice Beck of San Carlos, one of the Bay area's leading home designers.

Teamed with the designers are the Danco Construction company and the real estate firm of Harry Hoefler, Redwood City.

Sequoia District To Replace 'Iowa Testing

"Iowa" achievement tests of general educational development will soon be replaced by "other measures of student achievement which will be more useful to our instructional program," it was announced this week by Sequoia High School District Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner.

The Iowa tests have been used in the district for the past seven consecutive years.

Turner said the decision to seek some other type of test followed a re-evaluation of the testing program which was undertaken this fall.

Last October seniors in the district spent 7½ hours taking the test and a "high level of achievement was demonstrated," Dr. Turner stated.

"In an over-all composite score for eight of the tests the district seniors scored better than 85 per cent of the seniors in the nation," he declared. "On every individual test the seniors scored above the average for the nation's seniors."

He said a report of test results is being mailed to parents of those who took the tests.

Atherton, Menlo Gets Tax Funds

The town of Atherton recently received $3245.69 and the City of Menlo Park received $12,403, as the two municipalities' shares of state motor vehicle license fee funds for the period June 1 to Nov. 30, 1954.

San Mateo county as a whole received $136,112.22, it was announced last week in Sacramento.

There are two kinds of expenditures — must and maybe.

As We See It:

A GOOD START

Getting off to an auspicious start for 1956, Menlo Park's city council, in its first official meeting of the new year, this week took some long steps toward a better city.

Long mired in the mud of "Maybe," has been the project for Menlo Park's civic center. Enthusiastic citizens have for years been saying, "We must do something." The planning commission and the city council have been saying the same. More recently, the council changed the tune to: "Something must be done, but who will do it?"

This week, with the decision that Architect Kingsford Jones shall do it, the entire proposal comes out of the realm of dreaming. Now it is to begin taking shape, and if it doesn't, at least we have a place to go to ask why.

Jones is a local man. His office is just a jump from the present crowded library. He should be aware of the need for action.

Before this year is out, our municipal library will be without a roof over its head. The present lease expires in the fall; the present building is too small; the present location is unsuitable.

Impossible as it may seem to those acquainted with the pace of municipal procedure, it is not out of the question to hope that a new library building may be under construction before the end of summer.

If Jones keeps at it and if city administrators, planners and councilmen keep up with him, it can be done.

The year has begun with action; let's keep it up!

———o———

MORE ACTION NEEDED

In another field, the year has begun with action that we hope to see carried to fruition.

We speak of the formation of a Peninsula flood control project. We were amazed to learn recently that a federal survey of part of the Peninsula drainage basin had been authorized by Congress in 1942 and never carried out. It is time to push it through, time for all Peninsula residents to see that it is done and to be prepared to pay their share of completing a flood control project.

San Francisquito creek overflowed mildly this year. As more hundreds of acres along its banks are opened for development, as thousands of homes are built on Stanford and Sharon property, there will be that much more water to flow down its already constricted channel.

In 1942, some one planned to "do something." It took a near disaster 13 years later to awaken us to the fact that "something" had never been done.

Let's not wait until we are all washed into the Bay to see that the matter is studied, planned and carried through.

Our Nose for News

TELLS US:

Menlo Park Postoffice Carrier John Stillwell still has faith in humanity, even after having his car stolen twice in two weeks, during the recent Christmas mailing rush.

Stillwell normally parks his car in a lot near the postoffice and one day just before Christmas, left work to find it was missing. This he duly reported to police.

A couple of days later, while delivering mail in the unincorporated North Fair Oaks area, Stillwell found the car abandoned. So he asked the police to quit searching and drove the car back to work.

Less than a week later the car was stolen again.

It was recovered a few days ago by police in Mountain View.

Stillwell's next move was to chain the vehicle to a tree and equip it with a sign which read:

"Please don't steal this car. Come in and ask me for the keys."

So far, there have been no takers.

Remember when, last year, an Encinal school pupil made a color television set?

There are other electronic genii at Encinal, says Principal Mrs. Ina Porter.

Two of them, eighth graders this year, currently are working on design for a 2½-inch (that's right!) TV set. So they can watch it in class.

Mrs. Porter said the two boys announced their plans several weeks ago and she has no indication of how successful they've been in their project to date.

Your City's Business:

Bond Sales Are Carefully Weighed To Prevent Hardship

By CHARLES P. BURGESS
City Councilman, Menlo Park

The city council is to receive bids this week on the assessment bonds to finance the parking plazas on the southerly side of Santa Cruz avenue. Our policies with respect to the issuance of special assessment bonds is therefore a timely subject.

Special assessment bonds are issued to finance projects that are designed primarily to benefit a section of the city, and which therefore cannot be financed equitably by general obligation bonds which must be serviced from money raised from all of the taxpayers of the city.

Recognizing that these projects do have considerable value to the entire city, the city council has in effect guaranteed these bonds in order that the assessment district property owners can secure a lower rate of interest.

Most of our special assessment district bond issues have been for street construction. Two, however, have been for storm drain work, and three have been for acquisition and construction of downtown parking plazas.

When the assessment district proceedings have received the approval of the owners of a majority of property owners involved, the council calls for payment of assessments. If a property owner pays in cash, he has no further liability.

If, however, he does not, the council automatically issues bonds against the unpaid assessments. The property owner then, in addition to his regular taxes, is billed annually for the principal and interest on the bonds until they are paid off.

Our previous bond issues have been for terms of either 10 years of 15 years. This one, however, in order to suit the convenience of the property owners who want low annual payments, is to run 24 years.

There are now outstanding about $160,000 of assessment bonds, exclusive of the $127,000 scheduled for sale this week, out of original issues totaling $273,000. The bonds are put out to public bid, and the bidder offering the lowest rate is awarded the bonds.

The bonds are issued under either the 1915 Act of the 1935 Act. Both stipulate that the city must make good any deficiency resulting from a property owner failing to meet his assessment, but limits the city's liability to a 10-cent per $100 tax levy for each issue outstanding.

In theory, our thirteen outstanding issues could subject the city to a special $1.30 tax, or almost double the existing rate. However, such a tax could not be required, for even including the issue just sold, annual interest and redemption on all our assessment bonds runs only ($42,000 which if it were 100 per cent delinquent (no property owner paid an assessment) would still require a total city-wide tax rate of only 15 cents.

Property owners in assessment districts lose their property for non-payment of assessments in exactly the same way as for non-payment of general taxes, and penalties accumulate thereon. The city recoups any advances it may make from delinquent assessments, penalties and the proceeds of tax sales.

Moreover the city has followed a policy of building up surpluses in assessment bond funds.

Therefore, the possibility of any sizable tax levy on account of these bonds in a period of depression appears quite remote.

Walter:

IS RECRUITER

Walter, the weathermouse, clad in the costume of a Napoleonic major - general, strode martially into our presence.

"Come, come," we said. "New Years' parties are supposed to have been over and done with, long ago. Heard of one that lasted three days before the guests collapsed, but they were marooned on a fogbound ferry boat and . . ."

"Tush," Walter interrupted. "I was just setting the stage for a quiz I have in mind.

"I was going to ask you, 'If a WAVE is a woman sailor, and a WAC is a woman member of the army, what is a WOCK'?"

"This is painful," we said. "What is one of the latter?"

"A WOCK," said our correspondent, "is what you twow at a Wabbitt."

Telephone Books Bigger This Year

Bigger and better than ever, according to officers of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, is the new Menlo Park-Palo Alto-Atherton area phone directory currently being distributed to service subscribers throughout the area.

The new volume has 54,428 listings an increase of 5270 over those in last January's directory.

Also, according to telephone company officials, the volume has 208 pages—16 more than last year at this time.

Distribution of the volumes got underway this week.

School Trustees Set Visit Dates

Setting themselves a heavy program, Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees this week set Jan. 16, 23 and 30 as "visiting days" during which they will inspect classrooms in Menlo Park and neighboring school agency areas.

Expansion of the normal annual "visitation day" of the trustees was urged by District Superintendent Dr. Mel Homfeld, who suggested that the board members spend two of the days visiting classrooms in Menlo Park, and a third in nearby school districts.

Woodsider Heads County Bar Group

Dennis Hession of Godetia drive, Woodside, a member of the San Mateo law firm of Hession Robb and Creedon and city attorney for San Carlos, has been elected president of the San Mateo county Bar association, it was announced last week.

He is the only Menlo Park area attorney serving on the group's

City Counted Up Year's Building In Six Figures

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

January 9, 1931:

"Building activity in Menlo Park during the year 1930 amounted to $175,690, Bert J. Mehl, city inspector reports.

"The two high months of the year were March and October, the figures being as follows: March, $49,550; October, $35,580. Activity during the past two months of the year showed a decline. November's total was $7700, and December5s $4605."

(For comparison, totals for 1954 and 1955 were $5,717,665 and $5,336,460. All-time record total to date was rung up in 1950: $9,587,818.—Editor.)

SLIGHT QUAKE JARRED PENINSULA

"San Mateo county had its own private earthquade early Monday morning. . . .

"Thousands of persons throughout the Peninsula were awakened but many mistook the phenomena for a part of the storm. . . . ."

The Flood . . .

which became soggy every winter; the problem has grown more serious as the area has been built up.

Capt. Grant told residents that 'the situation will be four or five times as bad" after the Sharon estate area is built up.

In his presentation to Stallings, Lenahan recalled that the four homes most seriously damaged were built on concrete slabs several years ago, and all were financed through GI programs by a San Francisco bank.

Original drains in the area, he said, were installed in the 1930s by the Works Progress Administration; some of these were later filed in and some were cut by the subdividers.

IGNORED

Lenahan told the county engineer that he had first petitioned for action four years ago, but Capt. Grant had not even replied to his letter.

Last Friday, Grant agreed that conditions will grow worse as the Sharon estate and other lands west of the Alameda de las Pulgas are built up.

Tuesday night, Lenahan again gave a resume of the damage sustained during recent floods and pointed out that the danger will be increased as the Sharon estate is built up. He urged the city council to do whatever it could to regulate drainage from that area.

Councilmen meanwhile reiterated their stand:

The city will do whatever reasonable to aid residents within the incorporated limits of the city, and is in favor of an over-all county flood control program provided those already assessed for drainage projects do not have to pay again, Mayor George Ford said.

City Engineer Edwin C. Smith and City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr. agreed that, as far as they could determine, the city was not liable for damage to private property if it resulted from flooding.

ALONG CREEK

Most seriously affected residents of the city itself were those with property backing up to San Francisquito creek and facing Bay Laurel drive. Many reported losses of as much as 12 feet of the rear of their properties, representing a considerable property value.

Councilman Charles P. Burgess pointed out that, though the city is not liable, it may be necessary to line the creek, in order to increase its capacity.

Residents also called attention to the fact that an area-wide flood control conference is to be held Feb. 7 in San Jose, and urged the city to have a representative at that meeting.

Councilmen said that Palo Alto would be represented at the conference and would be contacted for information, since the area to be discussed ends at Dumbarton bridge as a northern boundary.

Meanwhile, Atherton city officials reiterated that the Atherton drainage canal flows largely through private lands. It is therefore therefore legally impossible for the Town of Atherton to regulate it.

Cash Bonds . . .

never been arranged with the city, which thus had no power to disburse the funds.

Upon complete explanation of the situation, the council approved city payment of the two amounts overdue to Bauman Brothers—subject to completion of the agreement which O'Keefe offered to draw up himself—and declared that henceforth the city will accept no more cash bonds for such work.

From now on, performance bonds will be required and some one else will have to see to paying the contractor.

Wells Fargo Rates Three Area Men

Promotions of three Menlo Park area men to new offices in the Wells Fargo bank were announced late last week, following the bank's annual stockholders' meeting in San Francisco.

The three were all elected assistant cashiers.

They included George Lang, 330 Menlo Oaks drive, a member of the bank staff since 1920 and currently at the bank's main office; Edward A. Hussong Jr., 2592 Illinois street, East Palo Alto,at the bank's Woodside road office and E. O. Bastianon, who is at the Menlo Park branch office.

Fremont Teacher Granted Leave

Menlo Park School District trustees Monday approved an application for leave of absence for Mrs. Mary Pederson, Fremont school third grade teacher, effective Feb. 1.

They also agreed to the hiring of Miss Shirley Lawler to replace her on the Fremont staff. Miss Lawler, who last year was a teacher trainee from San Jose State college, graduated in midyear. She has already worked in the classroom, under direction of Mrs. Pederson.

Area Stork Report

GAYLE ANN is the name chosen for a baby girl, born Jan. 2 at Sequoia hospital, who is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Morano of 1165 Willow road in Menlo Park.

The new Miss Morano, who weighed in at 7 pounds, 7 ounces, has already been greeted by her grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. John Clemence of Mountain View and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Littau of San Francisco, and P. Morano.

The family has been residing in Menlo Park for the past eight months.

Gayle Ann's father is a cement maker, employed in San Mateo.

THE HOUSEHOLD of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Flowers of 527 15th avenue, Menlo Park, was enlarged by one Jan. 2 with the birth of a baby son at Sequoia hospital. The young man tipped the scales at 7 pounds, 12 ounces.

Named Patrick Wayne, the lad joins his brother Paul Arthur, 4, and his sister Oonna Lee ,3. An aunt of the three children, Grace Flowers of Menlo Park, was on hand for the arrival of the newest Flowers member and has subsequently offered a helping hand with baby-sitting duties.

Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Flowers, also of Menlo Park, have been to call at the augmented home and have paid their personal respects to their new grandson. Congratulations have also also been received from maternal grandparents, who reside in Atlanta, Ga.

The family's father is employed with Remington Rand Inc. of Redwood City.

* * *

THE FIRST CHILD to join the household of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sigal Jr. of 4590 Alpine road, Menlo Park, arrived Jan. 2 at Palo Alto hospital in the form of a baby daughter and weighing 5 pounds, 10 ounces.

The newest Sigal has been named Susan and has been introduced to her four visiting grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sigal Sr. of Atherton recently paid their respects to their new granddaughter, as did the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingstone of Burlingame.

* * *

INTRODUCTIONS are in order at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby F. Henderson of 107 Santa Maria avenue, Menlo Park, since the arrival of the newest family member, a baby daughter.

The initial appearance of the young miss was noted at Sequoia hospital in Redwood City Jan. 6 where the scales recorded a weight of exactly 6 pounds, 2 ounces.

* * *

A HIT BY A MISS was scored Jan. 1 at Palo Alto hospital with the birth of a second daughter to Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of 419-8 Stanford Village, Menlo Park. The young lady pushed the scales to 6 pounds, 12 ounces upon her arrival.

Her parents have chosen to name their latest family member Kathleen and have introduced her to her older sister, Susan Ellen, 2.

Grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Smith of Cheyenne, Wyo., have sent their congratulatory regards upon the news of little Kathleen's advent. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Neames, maternal grandparents, also have sent words of welcome to their newest granddaughter.

* * *

MAKING HER DEBUT Jan. 3 at Palo Alto hospital was the second daughter and third child to enter the family circle of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Bulik of 1339 Sevier avenue, Menlo Park. Weighing precisely 8 pounds upon her arrival, the young miss has been named Nancy Jeanne.

Greeting Nancy upon her arrival home were her sister Linda Lee, 8½, and her brother Richard Allen, 5.

On hand for the advent of the newest Bulik were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Graham Sr., maternal grandparents ,who journeyed here from their home in Cathay, Calif. Notified, and soon to be heard from, are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Bulik of Barnesville, Minn., maternal grandparents of the recent arrival.

Father in the family is associated with the Calray company of Menlo Park.

* * *

ANNOUNCING THE ARRIVAL of a baby son are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Grotewahl of 849 Roble avenue, Menlo Park, since the advent of their first child Jan. 4 at Palo Alto hospital. The young man tipped the scales at 9 pounds, 3 ounces.

His parents have chosen to name him David Philip and have already introduced him to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Auld of 849 Roble avenue, Menlo Park; and Mrs. Gretchen Grotewahl, who resides at 767 Roble avenue.

Young David's father is the proprietor of the Ben Franklin variety store in Palo Alto.

* * *

THE POPULATION of Menlo Park was increased by one Jan 4 with the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Whybark of 207-6 Stanford Village. Palo Alto hospital scales recorded an initial weight statistic of 7 pounds, 10 ounces.

* * *

LATEST MEMBER of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickinson of 1585 Canada road, Woodside, is a baby daughter, born Jan. 5 at Palo Alto hospital and tipping the scale there at 7 pounds, 14 ounces.

The young lady has been named Jean Ellyn after her mother. Her grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Nils Stohl of New Haven, Conn. and Mrs. Rosa Dickinson of Woodside.

* * *

A VITAL STATISTIC in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. John Helmer of 202-6 Stanford Village, Menlo Park, is a baby daughter whose initial appearance was noted at Palo Alto hospital Jan. 2 when she pushed the scales there to a respectable 8 pounds, 2 ounces.

* * *

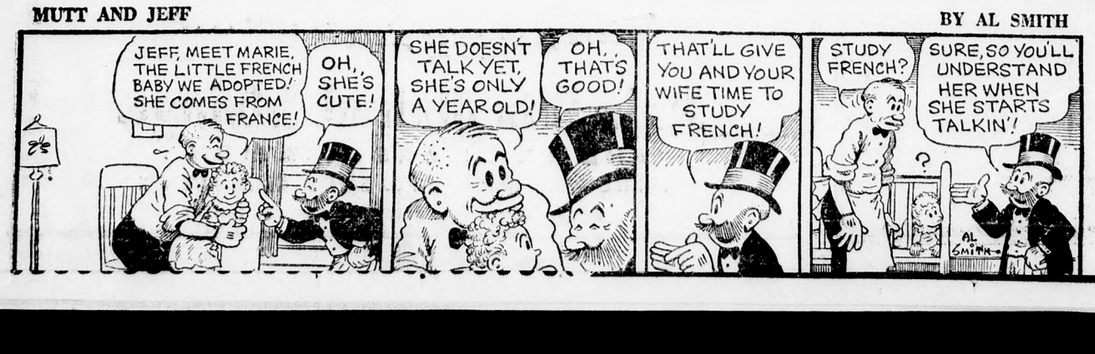

ANOTHER DAUGHTER has arrived on the family scene at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Dixon of 1253 Willow road. Making her debut at Community hospital in San Mateo Jan. 2, the young lady tipped the scales at 9 pounds, 4 ounces.

Named Donna Lee, she has been introduced to her older sister, Mary Lynn, 1½.

The youngest Dixon has become acquainted with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Williams, who has been to call at the augmented household from her home in Palo Alto. Donna Lee is also the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Nellie Osburn of Palo Alto.

Father of the two young sisters is employed with Preformed Line Products of Palo Alto.

The Readers Speak:

Thanks to Warm Hearts

Editor, the Recorder:

A great many children enjoyed a Merry Christmas this year, complete with unexpected dolls, games and other toys, because of the generosity of the warm hearted people of San Mateo county. The success of the "Toys for Tots" program certainly reflects the friendly spirit of our community.

Those of us in the 7th Infantry Battalion and 1st Tank Company, United States Marine Corps Reserve, would like to take this means to thank everyone personally. We do extend a standing invitation to visit us at any time at our Training Center opposite Tanforan Race Track on El

The Recorder always welcomes letters from its readers on any subject of public interest. Within the limitations of available space, all such letters will be published as received so long as they do not violate decency and good taste and provided they are signed.

Our deep appreciation is expressed to the Menlo Park Recorder and all the people on your staff. Your support was a most important factor in the success of the 1955 "Toys for Tots" program.

The entire experience has been for us, most satisfying. Again, our thanks to everyone.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Board of Education of the Menlo Park Elementary School District will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services required for the construction of Additions and Alterations to Oak Knoll School No. 3, Menlo Park, California.

Each bid shall be in accordance with the Plans and Specifications now on file at the office of Kingsford Jones, Architect, 615 Menlo Avenue, Menlo Park, California, and copies may be obtained therefrom by contractor licensed in the State of California upon deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Deposit will be refunded if such copies are returned in good condition within ten days after bids are opened.

Each bid shall be made on the Bid Form obtained at the office of the Architect, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashiers' check, or bid bond for not less than ten per cent (10%) of the base bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the Menlo Park Elementary School District.

The above-mentioned check or bid bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work, or any part thereof, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into a contract after being requested to do so by the said Board.

Bids shall be sealed and filed with Clerk of said Board on or before 8:00 P. M., January 31, 1956, at the Office of the Superintendent, Central School, 1300 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, California. Bids shall be opened and read aloud in public at or about 8:00 P. M. of the same day at the aforesaid school.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish labor and material bonds in an amount equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a surety company satisfactory to the said Board of Education.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the general prevailing rates of per diem wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Each bidder shall set forth in his bid the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor, and the name and address of each subcontractor who will so perform work or labor or render service to the contractor in or about the construction of the work. Failure of bidder to specify a subcontractor for any portion of the work to be performed under the contract constitutes an agreement for the bidder to perform that portion of the work himself.

Pursuant to the California State Labor Code, the said Board of Education has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contract. Such wages and rates are set forth in the Contract Documents, and are as follows:

Craft	Wages Per Hour
Carpenter	$2.90

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Freda Stanford

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Freda Elizabeth Stanford, who died Sunday at a San Jose rest home after a long illness. She had made her home with her only survivor, a son, Eric M. Stanford of 1760 Oak avenue, before being admitted to the rest home. She was 78 at the time of passing.

Mrs. Stanford was a native of San Francisco and was the widow of the late George G. Stanford, Oakland dentist.

Funeral services were private, and were conducted from the Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel at 650 Live Oak avenue. Inurnment was at the Chapel of Memories in Oakland.

Edward C. Pearch

Edward Clarence Pearch, a resident of the Peninsula for the past 46 years, died at his final home at 860 Olive street Monday morning after a long period of failing health. He was 64.

A native of Orleans, California, Pearch was graduated from University of Southern California with the class of 1912. During his collegiate career, he had been a champion discus thrower. He was not a member of any local organizations.

Survivors include Pearch's widow, who reside at the Olive street address, and four children: Mrs. David L. Ichelson of Atherton; Brian Pearch, Palo Alto; William and Clarence Pearch, both with the US Marine corps at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside.

He was the son of Mrs. Julia Starritt of Orleans, and is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Paul Hover, Eureka; Pearcy Starritt, Yreka; Ben Starritt, Green Bay, Wis.; Charles Starritt, Eureka, and Paul, Robert and Calvin Starritt of Orleans.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Johnston and Tinney funeral home at 650 Live Oak avenue with the Rev. Gardner Smith of Holy Trinity Episcopal church officiating. Interment followed at Alta Mesa Memorial park.

Miss Louise Hay

The body of Miss Louise Emily Hay, Menlo Park resident for the past 16 years, was sent to Salida, Colo., for interment this week, following the woman's death at her home here Jan. 4.

Miss Hay, 60, was found dead at her home, 897 Woodland avenue, where she lived alone. Death was attributed to natural causes.

A native of Barre, Vt., the woman had made her home in the Colorado city before moving to Menlo Park.

Surviving her are two cousins, Mrs. Emily Cottrell of Long Beach and Mrs. Catherine P. Jones of Texas.

Local arrangements were made by Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel, 650 Live Oak avenue.

I. P. Ingebrigtsen

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Ingvald P. Ingebrigtsen, 76-year-old Menlo Park painter who died at his home, 931 Marsh road, last week.

Ingebrigtsen, who had resided in Menlo Park for the past year and a half, had been in failing health for most of that time. He was a native of Norway.

Surviving him are children William K. Ingebrigtsen of Menlo Park; Helge Ingebrigtsen of Palo Alto and Mrs. Esther Rasmussen of Oslo, Norway. Other survivors include two brothers, Hilmar P. Ingebrigtsen of Oakland and Karl Ingebrigtsen of Patterson, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Mountain View cemetery chapel in Oakland.

Local funeral arrangements were made by Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield road in Palo Alto.

Pasco B. Carter

Pasco Billings Carter, a resident of Menlo Park for the past three years, was buried Tuesday at Alta Mesa Memorial park. He died Friday at Palo Alto hospital, following a long period of failing health, at the age of 75 years.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Carter had practiced law in Boise, Idaho, for 43 years, prior to retiring to Menlo Park. He had been graduated from Princeton university with the class of 1905 and had received his law degree from Pittsburgh university in 1908.

He had been admitted to practice law in several states, as well as before the US circuit court of appeals and the US Supreme court and during his active business career had been legal adviser to several US and foreign corporation.

Surviving him are his wife, Clara J. Carter, and two sons, Frank J. Carter of Dalas, Tex., and Pasco B. Carter Jr. of Menlo Park. A brother, John S. Carter, of Norristown, Pa., and five grandchildren also survive.

Funeral arrangements were by the Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel in Menlo Park.

At County Meet:

O. H. Olson Heads Program Panel For 'Governor's Town Meeting'

O. H. Olson of 736 Harvard avenue last week was named chairman of the program committee of the Governor's Countywide Town Meeting on Children and Youth, at the latter group's initial meeting last week at the probation department's juvenile courtroom in Redwood City.

Some 30 persons attended, and elected Mrs. Lester F. Nettle of San Mateo the general chairman of the group.

Peter Bolich, also of 351 Hedge road, Menlo Park, was elected chairman of the arrangements committee.

Olson is a member of the staff of the San Mateo county superintendent of schools; Bolich is the San Mateo county sheriff's office juvenile officer.

Purpose of the proposed town meetings in San Mateo county were set forth as follows:

1. To assist as well as possible the new influences being brought to bear upon our youth as a direct result of population growth, increased industrialization and urbanization.

2. To assist in what areas we are reasonably meeting the needs of our youth and isolate those areas where we need to give increased attention.

3. To determine some of the next steps in meeting these needs.

4. To acquaint the people of our county with our major needs of youth and our recommendations for meeting the needs.

5. To forward to the Governor's statewide conference the needs and recommendations as seen by the group.

Committee meetings will be held weekly. The Town Meeting is being sponsored by the San Mateo county probation department.

Missions' School Set by Baptists

The First Baptist church of Menlo Park will have a school of missions at 6:15 p.m. each Sunday night for the next six Sundays. There will be special speakers each night to tell of the mission field.

This Sunday, Dr. Luther Plankenhorn will tell about his trip to the Holy Land. He will wear the dress similar to what they wore in Bible times. Also several souvenirs will be exhibited—an old lamp, a stone from Capernaum where Jesus preached, shells from the Sea of Galilee. He will show a motion picture covering the trip from Jerusalem to Sea of Galilee.

World Religion Day Set Here

World Religion day will be observed by the Baha'is of Menlo Park at the Menlo Park civic center, Sunday, Jan. 15 at 3 p.m. The public is invited.

Lorne H. Matteson of Hayward, who has taught at the Geyserville summer school, will speak on "Religious Freedom."

"To bring together the people of good will in the spirit of consecration to the highest interest of mankind is the purpose of World religion day," says Mrs. Katherine MacPhee, press chairman for the local Baha'i group.

MENLO PARK MID PENINSULA BUSINESS DIRECTORY

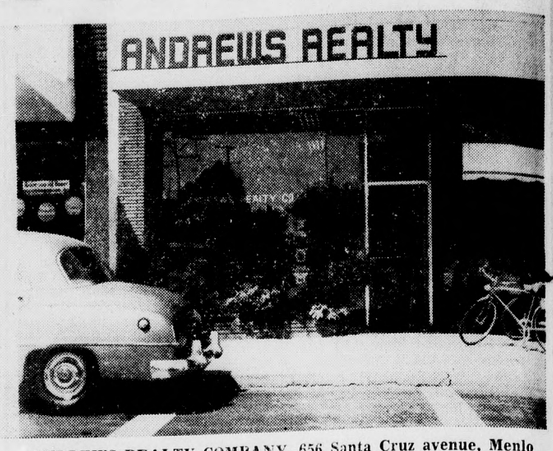

GEORGE F. CLEESE LUMBER AND MILLWORK, 826 El Camino Real, Menlo Park, is operated by two brothers, John I. Cleese and George F. Cleese Jr. They took over the business from their father, who no longer is active in the firm, but which he founded 30 years ago. In addition to a complete stock of lumber, the company does cabinet making, sash and doors, and other millwork, and carries builder supplies of all kinds. John has served as a trustee on the Ravenswood school board, and is interested in geology. George Cleese Jr., is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and one of his hobbies is sailing. Their family has lived in California for more than 100 years, and the two brothers have watched the peninsula area grow to its present remarkable proportions. Both are interested in Boy Scout activities.

F. C. KEELER, TERMITE CONTROL, with offices at 539 Santa Cruz avenue, has been serving homeowners and commercial establishments in this area for the past two years. Keeler, himself, has had six years experience in the field. All work done by the firm is guaranteed. Keeler offers prospective clients complete estimates and a detailed report on how the work is to be done, as well as a clearance upon completion of the job. Keeler, who has lived in Menlo Park for seven years, has two daughters and four grandchildren. He is an active member of American Legion Post 472 in East Palo Alto.

IF YOU ARE PLANNING A MOVE, CALL Campbell's Transfer and Hauling Service, of 480 California Avenue, Palo Alto. Firm formerly was situated at 620 Live Oak, Menlo Park, and H. A. Campbell has been in business for 20 years on the Peninsula, principally in the Palo Alto area. Campbell's hauls anything, anywhere, any time, and trash hauling is a specialty. Responsible, safe, clean and efficient moving is arranged for those who have household moving to do whether it is one piece or a van load. Campbell's antique and second hand store buys, sells, and trades anything of value. In addition to used furniture there is quality bric-a-brac, china, books, lamps, tools, and hardware. Campbell says everyone is welcome to come in and browse through the store.

ANDREWS REALTY COMPANY, 656 Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park, has been serving clients in the Menlo Park, Atherton and Palo Alto areas since 1947. Realtor Charles Andrews, who was born in Menlo Park, has been in the real estate business since 1937. His staff includes three in the real estate department, which lists both residential and commercial properties. The firm also handles both fire and casualty insurance and maintains an experienced insurance specialist to serve its clients in that field. Andrews, who now resides in Atherton with his wife and daughter, is an enthusiastic duck hunter and trout fisherman. He has devoted much of his time to serving the community and is a past chairman of the Menlo Park planning commission.

The Menlo Park Recorder is proud to present this Illustrated Service and Business Guide of the Mid-Peninsula; Each week during the 26-week series, we will introduce pictorially four of the total of 104 businesses listed below.

There'll be no Bleachers at M-A Gym This Season

Bears Meet Sequoia; Oaks Host San Jose JC Friday Night

M-A Quint Seeks Road To Comeback

By DENNIS ANDERSON

If the shock of Tuesday's upset loss has not worn off by tomorrow night Menlo-Atherton's varsity basketballers may find themselves in dire straits when they run up against the old rival, undefeated Sequoia in a crucial South Peninsula Athletic League game at Redwood City.

The tilt, in the Sequoia gym, will get underway shortly after the lightweight preliminary, tipoff for which will be at 7:30 p.m.

Ray Dimick's Cherokees have been lying in the grass, fooling everybody, this season. Unimpressive in their pre-season games, the Sequoians were rated low by sportswriters and fans.

But lo and behold they upped and beat Lincoln, the defending champion, 43-41 in overtime Friday night and then walloped a rangy Willow Glen club 60-49 Tuesday afternoon. And in the Lincoln game they made everybody sit up and take notice by pulling the never-before feat of coming back from a 26-2 deficit to win.

M-A got knocked off its pedestal by the Lions 56-50 here Tuesday for its first league loss. It was another case of the Lincoln choke the Bears always manage to pull.

As soon as Lincoln got a couple buckets ahead the Bears panicked and by the time they snapped out of it the thing was lost. It was Lincoln's sixth straight basketball win and seventh in eight starts against M-A.

The Bears' Bill Hilton, center, picked off 11 rebounds and scored 13 points but made an icy five for 20 from the floor. Guard Wade Hampton got 11, guard Bob Wendell nine and forward Sonny McNitt eight.

Those four and forward Gary Dodson will be the starters tomorrow night, Sequoia will throw a lineup of center Fred Mitchell, forwards Dave Sausedo and Nick Perez and guards Sam Darden, formerly of M-A, and Bob Pushkin.

Lincoln hit a phenomenal 17 for 33 shots for 51.5 per cent Tuesday. Four Lions hit in the double figures with Wayne Thush tops at 17. They also had a rebound edge by a bare, 27-26.

Next Tuesday, M-A plays at Willow Glen in a 3:15 contest.

Ayers started reserves and used his first stringers for just slightly more than one quarter as the locals whipped inept Washington of Centerville 63-47 in an inter-league game at M-A Monday.

Second stringers played the entire first half for the Bears and left the court trailing 29-26 at the intermission. Ayers inserted the first stringers, with the exception of Wendell, who was in the third quarter.

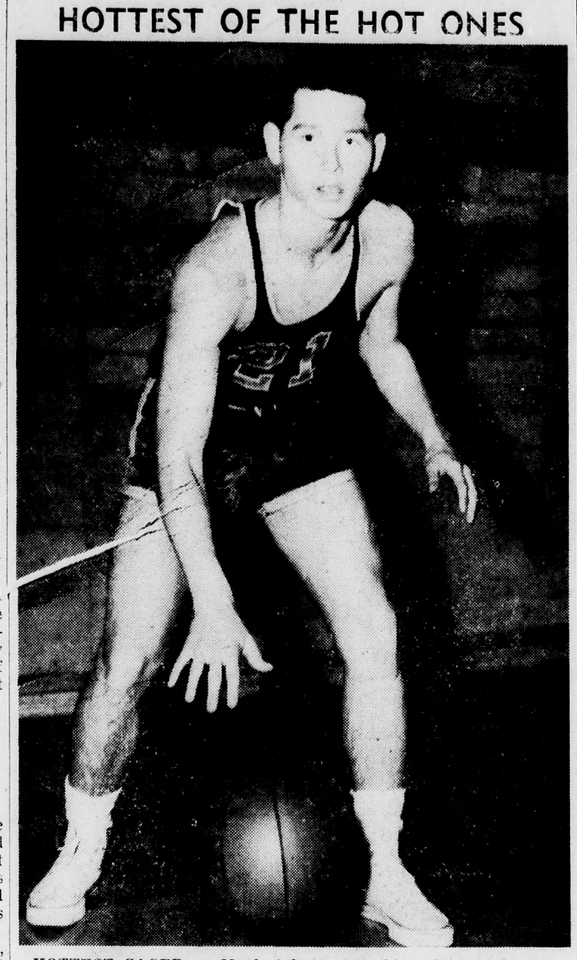

The storm troops quickly made a rout of the contest, outscoring the Huskies by 20-6. Ayers put the reserves back in to finish up with M-A safely ahead 50-36 early in the final stanza.

Don DeFeo topped the Bear scoring with nine points. Hilton and Jim Stanford had eight and Reed seven. McNitt, Hampton and Dan Tapson had six. Washington's Kenny Ornellas was high for the game with 10.

The Bears barely worked up a sweat in whipping Palo Alto 61-40 in the SPAL opener at M-A last Friday afternoon. Controlling the game with seemingly effortless ease, the Bears hurried to a 21-7 lead early in the second period and were never extended.

The regulars played a little more than half the game. Hilton, though guarded by two and three men throughout the action, scored 11 points and picked off 11 rebounds.

HOTTEST OF THE HOT ONES

HOTTEST CAGER on Menlo-Atherton's red-hot lightweight basketball team in last Friday's 52-35 win over Palo Alto was junior guard Don Powell. He scored 17 points to rate second in South Peninsula athletic league Class B scoring behind Sequoia's Dave Amendola, who had 21. Powell, a letterman on M-A's championship lightweight quint last year, is also an outstanding baseball pitcher and outfielder and defensive halfback in football.

Menlo-Atherton Lightweight Five May Face Stiffest Test in Sequoia

Coach Bob Ayers expects Menlo - Atherton's undefeated lightweight basketball team to be up against possibly its toughest test of the season tomorrow night when the Bruins meet Sequoia in the latter's gym.

Tipoff for the game, preliminary to the varsity contest between the rivals, will be at 7:30 p.m. Next Tuesday the Bruins will play Willow Glen there in the second part of an afternoon doubleheader.

Sequoia was the Peninsula Sportswriters' association's concensus choice for the South Peninsula Athletic league's favorite role. The Cherokees whipped Lincoln handily last week but lost to Willow Glen, the No. 2 rated team, Tuesday. They almost pulled Tuesday's tilt out of the fire with a fourth period rally in which they outscored the classy Rams 18-8, however.

Ray Dimrick will have a great height advantage on the Bears, with forward Dave Amendola and center Gary Geagan heading the attack.

M-A scored its second consecutive lop-sided victory Tuesday, whipping Lincoln 50-23. Olin Hughes, Jim Sherman and Hal Turner led Bruin scoring with 12, 10 and nine, respectively.

It was never a contest as the Bears led 30-12 at halftime and held Lincoln scoreless in the fourth quarter.

Sherman will start at center with Sherman and Dale Crane at forwards and Hughes and Don Powell at guards tomorrow and Tuesday.

Ayers' red-hot troops broke their own week old school Class B scoring record Monday in a 67-33 triumph over Washington of Centerville in an inter-league game at M-A.

Second - stringers started and played most of the game, but the locals scored almost at will in riding to the triumph. They were behind 17-14 after a wild first quarter but led 29-23 at halftime.

In the fourth quarter they tied the single quarter scoring mark set in last week's 63-34 win over Santa Clara and set a new mark for a margin of points held over an opponent in one quarter by outhitting the visitors 28-2.

First-stringer Hal Turner scored 17 points to top the Bruins. Reserve center Bill Adams and Olin Hughes had 10. Ed Santos led the losers with 13.

Short though they are, the Bruins whipped an even shorter Palo Alto team 52-35, employing some red-hot shooting and complete backboard control, last Friday afternoon at M-A.

M-A started slowly but got better and better as the game progressed. The Bruins led by just three points 9-6, at the end of the first stanza but had built the lead to 23-15 at halftime. They added only one point to the margin in the third quarter but pulled off and won going away in the final canto.

Guard Don Powell made four buckets and nine free throws for 17 points and guard Olin Hughes scored 12 for the Bears. Lefty Dick Holden, Palo Alto forward tallied 14.

BLACKWOOD SCORES FIVE BUT FROSH FIVE LOSES

Former Menlo - Atherton prep Tom Blackwood scored five points for the San Jose State freshman basketball team in a 71-64 loss to San Jose JC last week. Blackwood has started several games for the Spartans.

Menlo's Fabulous Quintet Faces Another Unpredictable Cage Five

By WINGATE SHALE

Unbelievable (and undefeated) Menlo college, the basketall team "that doesn't have a thing," will seek to protect its perfect (one win, no losses) Coast Conference jaycee record tomorrow night when the Oaks host unpredictable San Jose Junior college.

Tipoff will be at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge to the Menlo gym.

The Oaks, not even given a second glance by pre-season dopesters, smashed high-scoring Hartnell 68-47 in their CCJC opener here Tuesday night for their second straight win and their third in four starts.

The Jaguars who, publicity releases would have one believe, are the best thing that ever happened, looked impressive in losing to league favorite East Contra Costa 91-82 the same night in San Jose.

San Jose had four men in the double figures, led by forward Larry Heffner with 20 and guard Jim Fuller with 17. Center former Lincoln prep Jim Brazda had 16. Those three, guard Ed Brewer and forward Carl Westensow will start tomorrow night.

Menlo was pretty impressive, too. The Oaks made 24 of 55 field goal attempts for 43.6 per cent and controlled the backboards 39-27 while limiting the Panthers to 27.4 per cent (17 for 62) from the floor.

Kent Carter, the fabulous freshman guard from Redding, sank 10 of 16 tries for 62.5 per cent and added six of eight free throws for 26 points. Dave Brewer, 220-pound forward, helped out with 17 counters, including seven buckets in 10 tries, for 70 per cent.

Defensively the pressing of guards Buzz Kata and Carter and the rebound work of 6-6 center Bill Kupiec stopped Hartnell. Kupiec didn't make a goal but grabbed of 14 rebounds and stopped Panther flash Hal Boutte with five points and eight rebounds.

The fifth starter, Terry Angell, was also an important cog on defense. Angell, who replaced forward Jim Lenihan when the latter dropped basketball to concentrate on his studies, will be in the starting lineup tomorrow night and when Menlo host the San Jose State junior varsity in a return game next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Carter put on a dazzling display of accuracy with his left-handed jump shot last Friday night as the Oaks made their home debut with a narrow 58-55 decision over the Moffett Field Flyers at the Menlo gym.

Carter scored 36 points, just two shy of the gym record set by Carlos Bea for the Oaks in 1952. He would most assuredly have broken the mark had he not fouled out with 5:10 remaining to play.

Menlo nearly panicked after Carter left the game. Aaks, leading by a 53-47 at the time, did not make another field goal all night.

Moffett tied the score at 53-all with 1:59 left but Buzz Katz made four of four free throws and Stan Silverstein added a fifth charity in the remaining time to wrap up the win.

Menlo led 31-28 at halftime with Carter accounting for 22 of the points. He finished the game with 12 field goals in 23 attempts for 52.2 per cent and an amazing 12 of 13 free throws. His floor-shooting average was 52.2 per cent.

Menlo Acorns, Leading League, Oppose Emery

Menlo school's basketball team will be shooting for its third straight Bay counties athletic league win tomorrow when coach Bob Nelson takes the Acorns to Emeryville to meet Emery high.

Tipoff for the Class B preliminary will be 8 p.m.

Next Tuesday Menlo hosts Lick-Wilmerding of San Francisco at the Menlo college gym. The lightweight tilt will open the twin bill at 3 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

Menlo's varsity racked up its second straight easy BCAL win Tuesday by whipping St. Vincent's 40-24. The Acorns were ahead 10-2 at the end of the first quarter and 20-10 at halftime.

Nelson substituted freely with center Gib Virgo and guard Mike Bambauer leading the scoring with eight points. All-league forward Bill Fuller did not start, but got seven points and Jay Sheldon added six.

Menlo's lightweights won their first league game in the preliminary.

Menlo whipped San Rafael handily in its BCAL opener last Saturday at San Rafael 59-37. Three players hit in the double figures for the Acorns as they put on their biggest scoring splurge of the season.

Mike Bambauer, starting at forward, scored 13 points while junior Nick Fabian bucketed 12 and Bill Fuller, returning all-leaguer, notched 12 also. Tom Lagerquist had eight and Gib Virgo, the leading Menlo scorer in pre-season contests, had six along with reserve center Maynard Spence.

High scorer for the game was Harry Shepherd of San Rafael with 16. Menlo led by 30-20 at halftime and was never threatened. The locals won going away, scoring 19 points to San Rafael's five in the fourth period.

Menlo's lightweights dropped their half of the twin bill 21-15 Jeff Davenport led their scoring with six and John Belden topped San Rafael with eight. The Acorn Bs were behind 6-0 at the end of the first quarter and 10-4 at halftime.

Start of Yo-Yo Contest Is Near

Signups for the sixth annual Menlo Park Recreation department Yo-Yo contest will be taken on Monday and Tuesday on seven Menlo Park playgrounds.

On Monday, registrations will be taken at Laurel, Encinal, Hillview and Willow-Menlo Oaks; Tuesday at Oak Knoll and Fremont. Contests will run for two weeks and the week of Jan. 30 the playground finals will be held. The winners of this contest will compete in the citywide finals on Saturday morning at 10 a.m. Feb. 4 at the Burgess park theater.

Elementary school age children are eligible to compete. Girls will be judged separately throughout the contest. Playground directors will hand out instructions to all who register.

Tittle Tosses 6 TDs In Hula Bowl Game

Y. A. Tittle of Menlo Park, quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers, led the Hawaii All-Stars to a 51-20 victory over the College All-Stars before 24,000 fans in Honolulu stadium Sunday in the 10th annual Hula Bowl

Tittle and 11 other professional players were on the Hawaiian team. He was named the Most Valuable Player for the winners after throwing six touchdown passes, two of them to 49er teammate Carroll Hardy and three to the Los Angeles Rams' Elroy Hirsch.

"It was lots of fun," Tittle commented after the game, but it's not this easy at Kezar stadium."

Halfback Hugh McElhenny of the 49ers also played for the Hawaii All-Stars and gave Hardy a handoff on a reverse on which Hardy ran 97 yards for a touchdown.

These Are the Top Oddities In U. S. Sports During 1955

Wonder what the funniest sports oddities of 1955 were? Here's a few pretty good nominations, supplied us by the Sporting News:

A schoolboy basketball game at Union, Me., was postponed because of rough seas. The North Haven high school team —from a Penobscot Bay island 10 miles from the mainland— was unable to play Union high because the turbulent water made boat travel impossible.

Because of too much snow, of all things, the annual ski race at Mount Washington, N. H., April 9-10, was canceled. High winds deeply furrowed a 75 - foot snow cover and made the race too dangerous.

Giving no thought to postponement, Washington State and San Jose State went ahead with their football game at Pullman, Wash., Nov. 12, despite a snow-covered field and bitter five-degree cold. Four hundred fans who had reserved seats showed up, but only one ticket was sold at the gate. Band instruments froze up, so the students sang "Jingle Bells."

Bill Greason, Houston pitcher, pulled one of the year's rarest plays when he made an unassisted putout at the plate on a runner trying to score on a wild pitch Bob Caffrey, San Antonio infielder, was on third base when Greason uncorked a pitch which sailed over catcher Hal Smith's head and hit the concrete grandstand wall behind the plate on the fly. Greason, dashing in to cover the plate caught the rebounding ball on the bounce and tagged out Caffrey attempting to score.

Also in baseball, John LiPrando, outfielder for Bluefield in the Appalachian league, drove in three runs with a sacrifice fly. Outfielder Johnny Charles of Kingsport caught the ball, but fell into a hedge that bounds center field. By the time he could extricate himself from the bushes, three men who were on base at the time had scored.

The salary of Ted Lyons, acting manager of the Memphis Chicks was doubled when the Chicks won the Southern Association pennant —from $1 to $2. Lyons had been loaned to the Chicks by the parent Chicago White Sox when manager Jack Cassini was injured.

At Colorado Springs, Colo., Jim Mertlik, a pitcher for Pueblo Springs, stormed up to plate umpire Estie Wells to register a vigorous protest against his calls. It was so vigorous, in fact, that Wells stepped back from the argument iwth the imprint of teeth in the middle of his forehead. Mertlik was suspended for the final three days of the season.

At Cincinnati, umpire Jocko Conlan took himself out of the game after calling a strike on Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson. The ball seemed to hit the dirt in front of the plate. Conlan, who had been suffering from an attack of arthritis, said after the game. "I just couldn't bend over to follow the pitch. Robinson seemed so honestly shocked over the call, I figured I must have missed it. I didn't want any more like that."

At the Polo Grounds, Brooklyn's Sandy Amoros struck out, but the ball got by catcher Wes Westrum when Amoros' slashing bat hit Westrum on the back of the head. Sandy reached second base before the stunned Westrum could recover the ball.

One of the wackiest incidents in baseball occurred at Los Angeles and involved Bobby Bragan, then Hollywood manager and later named to pilot the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1956. Vexed with the umpiring as his team was losing to Los Angeles, Bragan sent in eight consecutive pinch-hitters in the last inning. They kept replacing each other after one pitch. Finally, Clarence Buheller grounded out. Hollywood lost 7 to 5.

Dick Tettelbach, Denver outfielder, believes he set a record, June 30, but he would just as soon forget all about it. In the eighth inning, when Denver staged an eight - run uprising against St. Paul, Tettelbach was responsible for all three outs. He popped to shortstop for the first out, then later hit into a double play to end the big inning.

ADD SELECTED SHORTS

VETERAN MAJOR LEAGUE pitcher Howie Judson, now rounding out his career with Seattle, had a look at Menlo-Atherton's Don Powell and Hal Turner while the two were playing with the Peninsula Babe Ruth League All Stars in a tournament in Oakland last summer. Judson said he thought both Powell and Turner had the equipment to go to the majors, and could do it if they made up their minds that was what they wanted to do and set about to working on it. Both boys are juniors at M-A. Turner has been out for track the last two years but may join Powell in seeking a berth on Coach Howard Costello's varsity baseball team next spring.

CONTEST OPENING NEARS

READY TO SPIN their string-climbing tops in the Menlo Park recreation department's annual Yo-Yo contest are Bob Shattuck and Gay Grove, shown as they prepared to sign up for the event. Participation starts at school playgrounds and winners of early contests go on to city-wide competition. Mrs. Gayle Thompson, center, is in charge of the activity. —Recorder photo

Funds Lack $3000 of Goal For Galleries

Menlo - Atherton high school students hoping for installation of permanent bleachers in the gym before the end of basketball season will be disappointed, James Coffis, dean of boys, announced this week. Instead, he said, they'll have to settle for portable seats borrowed from Sequoia high school district.

It was hoped that through the sale of Christmas trees, with the combined efforts of the Menlo Park Kiwanis club and the Menlo Park-Palo Alto Optimists' club and the student body, $7000 would have been raised at this time. This would have been enough to equip half the gym.

If this amount had been obtained, a petition was to have been sent to the district's trustees, asking them to finance seating for the other side.

However, the sale netted only about $1500, and receipts from last year's student production and country fair, added to this, brings the total in the bleacher fund to an approximate $4000.

This will be used to purchase as many seats as possible, Coffis said, but installation is still not expected until after the end of the basketball season and the portable ones will have to be used until then.

The portable seats will be placed at either end of the gym and with chairs along the sidelines, capacity of the gym should be brought to near 500, Coffis added.

No immediate fundraising activities are scheduled other than the annual country fair and the all-school production.

M-A Wrestlers Face Undefeated Paly Vikings

Coach Sam Lugonja's Menlo-Atherton high school wrestling team, which has already absorbed a couple of beatings this year, takes its so-so fortunes against league-leading Palo Alto this afternoon in the Vikings' own gym.

The snarling and groaning will start promptly at 3:15 p.m., promises Lugonja, who wouldn't concede, early this week, that his lads were somewhat middling in talent, as a matter of fact, said the mentor, the members of the squad are only now getting into shape—after six meets including two which were lost before the Christmas holidays.

Shoring up the battered defenses of the Bears will be a new 154-pound transfer from Santa Monica, Kent Morton. Lugonja said that his particular weight division has been one of the hardest to fill during the current campaign.

Tuesday, the Bears tackled a heavy San Francisco high school squad, with the following results:

The Bears took another firm step along the comeback trail on Tuesday, mauling the Warriors by a 50-10 score, winning in every division except the 145-pound and unlimited categories.

Palo Alto got into the top spot in PAL contention by beating San Jose. The Bulldogs themselves had knocked over Menlo-Atherton in the latter's opening tilt.

Today, Lugonja plans to enter the following contenders (weight class in parenthesis): Cliff Davis (103); Dick Plowman; (112); Larry Scott (120); Don Hack (127); Dave Judge (133); Nick Bouja (145); Barry Davidson (165); George Brown (175); Henry Edwards (191) and Virgil Askew, unlimited.

Getting back into contention after the Christmas holidays last week, the locals defeated Carlmont high school Jan. 5 by the following scores:

103—Weeks (M-A) dec. Angoglina; 112—Plowman (M-A) pinned McMahon; 120—Hack (M-A) pinned Symon; 127—Scott (M-A) dec. Campbell; 133—Judge (M-A) pinned Bamburger; 138 — Martin (M-A) pinned Shubert; 145—Bouja (M-A) dec. Wenger; 154—Fritzler (Carl.) pinned Randall; 165 — Davidson (M-A) pinned Vella; 175—Brown (M-A), Newcombe (Carl.) drew; 191—Edwards (M-A) pinned Urmini; Unlimited — Askew (M-A) pinned Heller.

GREGOR PIATIGORSKY, cellist, will appear in concert Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Memorial hall on Stanford campus, under the auspices of the Associated Students of Stanford University concert series. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

At Green Oaks:

Teams Close in Standings as EPA High School Cage Circuit Reopens

First week play of the second Ravenswood High School basketball leauve got under way on January 4 with two tilts at Green Oaks multi-purpose room.

In the opener Schwartz scored 28 of his M-A Hi-Y team's 56 points to lead in a victory over the Vikings who tallied 44 points. High man for the losers was Degnan with 14.

Going into a two way tie for first place were the Beavers in a close game with the Creepers, with the final score 41 to 39. Although Sumner was high point man for the evening with 23 tallies, he was unable to bring the Vikings victory. Second high-scoring Viking McCormick scored 11, as did Lewis, who was high point man for the Beavers.

Making it a three-way tie for first place on Friday night were the Aces, who racked up a 48-42 victory over the Steaks. Penne scored 17 and Andrus 15 for the winners. Mathews 14, and Gayer 12 for the losers.

Entered in the league are the following teams, consisting of high schoolers not on varsity or other regular school basketball teams: M-A Hi-Y, Vikings, Beavers, Junior Globetrotters, Steaks, Shue Foot Five, Aces and Creepers.

In order to finish league play by March 1, each team in the league will play one game on Friday. All other games are scheduled for Wednesdays and Thursdays at Green Oaks gym.

Individuals on the first and second place teams will receive individual awards and an all-star team will be picked by the captains to compete in a county-wide tournament February 18.

Pete Aldrete, Ravenswood Park Recreation and Parkway district recreation director, is in charge of the league. This is an RPRPD-sponsored recreation program.

Adult Circuit Resumes Play In Ravenswood

With vacation over, the adult basketball league is once more in session with the Ravenswood Rec team still in the lead with five victories and no losses.

Defeating the All-Stars by a one-point margin, 40-39, the rec team maintained its lead over second place Commuters and Hillers who both have four wins and one loss. Aldrete led the victors with 12, Payne with 10 and Bouge with 8. Skandis led his team with 10 tallies. Peterson scored 8.

Other games played last week found the Villagers swamping the Ravenswood Teachers by a 66 to 26 score. Overs with 26 and Thurston with 24 scored at will over the hapless teachers. Cox tallied 13 and Pederson 6 for the losers.

The final game of the week was another close one, with Hillers eeking out a 34 to 32 victory over the Garden Five. However, high men for the games was Cesario for the Garden Five, with Bauer as of Hillers scoring 9.

Games this week, starting tonight, with the Curries Manufacturing company team meeting the All Stars at 8:10 p.m. include two games tomorrow night. The 7:10 game will find the Commuters matched with the Ravenswood Teachers. The nightcap will be a test between the leading Ravenswood Rec team versus second place Hillers.

All games are played at Green Oaks multi-purpose room.

BLACKWOOD IS SPARTAN SCORER

Tom Blackwood, former Menlo-Atherton prep, scored 11 points in the first four games of the season for the San Jose State freshman, statistics reveal. Blackwood started two of the games.

PROTECTING WATER SUPPLY IN DISASTER AREAS

Service beyond the call of duty by California Water Service Company employees and careful, thorough advance planning turned back any threat to water supply in Northern California communities served by our Company.

Four communities out of the 29 served by the Company were in the disaster areas—Stockton, Oroville, Marysville and Visalia.

When the threat came every field employee in these communities went on 24 hour call. Standby gasoline engine pumping equipment was moved to the scene in case of power failure.

Wells in lower areas of the communities were shut down. Wells in higher areas were sandbagged and prepared for defense to the last extremity.

Engineers and pump and motor repair specialists sped to the stricken areas from the general office and other communities in our state-wide system to strengthen local staffs.

With thousands driven from their homes in these communities by actual flood or threat of flood, the record of California Water Service Company stands like this:

No contaminated water at any time in any of our systems, although this is always the greatest threat from flood.

Only 17 customers out of 43,584 in these four communities suffered an interruption of service at any time, and bottled water was delivered to these until temporary connections were installed.

Our field employees in these four communities and many others elsewhere in the state who were called in, gave up their Christmas weekend to serve our customers.

It's part of our job to do that in the water works business, but even so we're all mighty proud of the result.

School Cage Leagues Open Here Saturday

First games of Menlo Park elementary school basketball leagues get under way this weekend, with fifth and sixth grade players sharpening their attacks for opening games tomorrow and the seventh and eighth graders getting ready for a Saturday morning round of play at Burgess park gym.

This year, the seventh and eighth grade leagues will have five teams each in contention, as will the younger teams.

In these leagues, which have drawn considerable public support, all games will be played at Burgess park gym.

Saturday's openers will get under way at 9:15 a.m. as Encinal seventh grade meets Las Lomitas seventh grade; at 10:15 a.m. Hillview seventh grade meets St. Joseph's school seventh grade.

The Encinal and Las Lomitas eighth graders meet at 11 a.m. and the St. Joseph's and Hillview eighth grade crews take to the hardwood at 11:45 a.m.

The seventh and eighth grade teams drawing the bye are those which represent Menlo Oaks school in the league.

They'll get into play the following Saturday, Jan. 21.

Meanwhile, for the younger teams, the following schedule has been established (to be played on grounds of first team named) Friday afternoon:

OTHER GAMES

Oak Knoll and Fremont, both fifth grade teams and sixth grade teams; Hillview and Encinal, at Hillview, both fifth and sixth grade teams.

All games are co-sponsored by the Menlo Park City recreation department and the Menlo Park Elementary School District as a part of the cooperative recreation program.

Teams Here Sunday:

FOR INDUSTRIAL CAGE PLAY

Fourteen Bay area Industrial league basketball teams will converge on Burgess park gym Sunday, to participate in the city-sponsored annual I league meet.

The single elimination tourney will get underway at 12 noon; play will continue until about 10:30 p.m.

Winners from games to be played this week will return to Menlo Park next Sunday, Jan. 22, for finals. The games on that date will also start at noon.

Teams have been drawn from as far as Martinez and El Cerrito, Rec Director Stan Sexton, in charge, said this week.

"This is an excellent opportunity for all city resident and basketball fans to see some excellent games," Sexton noted. "Youngsters who want to learn a few pointers are especially welcome."

....There's plenty of seating at the gym, he said, adding that admission is free.

Menlo Campus:

Menlo School Basketballers Meet PAMA In Fourth Start, After One Win

Menlo school's Cub basketball team makes its fourth start of the season today against Palo Alto Military Academy in the Little Gym at Menlo college. Tipoff will be at 3:30 p.m.

Coach Duane Louis, former football star at the University of Santa Clara, announced he would start of lineup of Leonard Woods and Ricky Wright at forwards, Larry Brooks at center and Tom Berger and either Milt Robins or Jeff Towne at guards.

Louis' charges scored their first win last Saturday, whipping San Rafael 25-18 behind the 14-point scoring splurge of tall Ricky Wright.

They lost their first start to Encinal school in a scrimmage last month, 22-13. The Cubs played Las Lomitas Tuesday at Menlo.

The Cubs are composed of seventh, eighth and ninth graders at Menlo school who have no more than 80 exponents according to height, weight and age charts distributed by the California Interscholastic Federation. They are comparable in size to a high school Class D team.

Menlo plays a 16-game schedule with school teams from the Menlo Park area and Cub teams from other BCAL schools.

The Cub roster:

Leonard Woods, Ricky Wright, Tom Berger, Milt Robins, Jeff Towne, Jeff Buckingham, Mouse Deming, Lex Brainard, Joe McKown, Rick Gardener, Boyd Edwards, Larry Brooks and Bud Mills.

The remainder of the Cub schedule:

Jan. 12, Palo Alto Military Academy at Menlo; Jan. 17, Lick-Wilmerding, at Menlo; Jan. 19, Green Oaks at Green Oaks; Jan. 31, Palo Alto Military Academy at Menlo; Feb. 2, Menlo Oaks at Menlo; Feb. 4, San Rafael at Menlo; Feb. 7, St. Nicholas at Menlo; Feb. 9, Las Lomitas at Menlo; Feb. 14, Lick-Wilmerding at San Francisco; Feb. 16, St. Nicholas at Menlo; Feb. 21, Green Oaks at Menlo; Feb. 23, St. Thomas at Menlo; Feb. 28, Menlo Oaks at Menlo Oaks.

All games start at 3:30 p.m. The team plays six-minute quarters, the same as regular high school Class D teams.

Irish Alumni Plan Grid Scholar Award

An offer to present yearly a "Rockne Scholars Award" to the Bay area high school football squad compiling top classroom averages was announced by the Notre Dame club of Northern California last week at a press conference for Ed "Moose" Krause, Notre Dame athletic director.

The proposed team trophy is a symbol to alert the senior high school football player to the need for right study habits for college years and adult life despite distractions, President Dick Ames announced at the gathering.

The ND club proposal, Ames outlined, calls for a trophy rotating annually to the school with the best average grade by 22 football players with the most playing time in a season. Individual honors for the winning 22 are to be arranged.

M-A Bruins Ready For Cherokees

Menlo - Atherton high school's Junior Varsity basketball team, flushed with a stunning victory over Palo Alto last week, is all set to go against Sequoia high school's Braves tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Bill Loftus said his troops were in pretty good shape and, although he rated the Redwood Citians as "fair," also pointed to the record. The record shows that the Bruins clobbered them once before this season, by a rather impressive score.

As a matter of fact, M-A's Jayvees seem to be putting together a better game every week, the statistics seem to indicate.

In their last outing, Friday against Palo Alto, the M-A crew smashed the Vikes 57-26 with all 12 players getting into the game and all of them hitting the cage for points.

Top player of the Friday game was Lynn Larson, forward, who bucketed 18. Barc Corbus, a Menlo transfer who's allowed to play because the Jayvees aren't in a regular league, got 12 although he plays the guard slot.

Thus far the locals have three wins and no losses.

Taking to the maple when the whistle sounds tomorrow afternoon will be Larson and Jerry Bogue in the forward spots; Jerry Benson or John Wild at center and Corbus or Wayne Marino at the guard spots.

Start of the tilt will be at 3:45 p.m.

SECOND WIN

Coach Loftus' troops scored their second straight win a week ago Wednesday by whipping Sequoia 64-39. They held only a three point bulge 22-19 at halftime.

Larson and Bogue sparked the attack with 14 and 12 point respectively. Corbus and Barney Fore each had eight.

The jayvee schedule for the remainder of the season:

Jan. 13, Sequoia at M-A; Jan. 17, Fremont at Fremont, 4 p.m.; Jan. 20, Los Altos at M-A; Jan. 24, Carlmont at Carlmont; Jan. 27, Palo Alto at Palo Alto; Jan. 31, Campbell at M-A; Feb. 3, Mountain View at Mountain View; Feb. 10, Fremont at M-A; Fe. 14, Carlmont at M-A; Feb. 17, Mountain View at M-A.

Phil Woolpert Guest Of Sportswriters

Phil Woolpert, coach of the national champion University of San Francisco basketball team, was the guest of the Peninsula Sportswriters association at its regular monthly meeting last night at Eugene's restaurant in Redwood City.

Jim Johnson, new cage coach at Capuchino high school, and George Clark, former PAL basketball Player of the Year and now coach at San Jose high, were also guests of the association.

MUSIC OF AARON COPLAND will be featured at a chamber music concert to be presented Sunday at 4 p.m. at Cubberley auditorium on Stanford campus. The public is invited. The university's department of music is sponsor of the affair.

Area Musicians:

Peninsula Symphony Presents Concerts on Friday, Saturday

Conductor Aaron Sten will appear as solo violinist with the Peninsula Symphony orchestra when twin concert programs are presented Friday and Saturday evenings, Jan. 13 and 14.

Playing with Sten in the 65-member orchestra of trained, non-professional musicians are several local area people.

Sten who has been conductor of the orchestra during the past seven seasons will be heard playing the Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in D Major by Ludwig von Beethoven.

Besides the concerto, the program includes the Rosamunde overture by Franz Schubert, the Polka and Fugue from the opera "Schwanda" by Paromir Weinberger, Nocturne from the Second String Quartet in D Major by Alexander Borodine and the Great Gate of Kiev from the Suite, "Pictures at an Exhibition" by Modest Moussorgsky.

The program will be presented Friday night at Sequoia high school auditorium in Redwood City and the Saturday night program will be presented at San Mateo high school auditorium in San Mateo. Concert time is 8:30 p.m.

Local area musicians who will play in the twin concerts include, in the violin section, Paul Sturgeon of Menlo Park;; violas, Edbund Silverbrand of East Palo Alto and Frances Fisher of Menlo Park; violincelli, Maureen Stowe and Nina Boothby; flutist, George Cawthron of Menlo Park and oboeist Betty Cawthron of Menlo Park.

Trumpet, Clifton Woodhams Jr., trombones, Ward Harman, and Robert H. Stroud of Menlo Park, percussionist. Ione Long of is librarian.

Tickets for the concert by subscription through the Peninsula Symphony association, P.O. Box 732, or through your local sponsoring merchants who have tickets for the public for the asking. The local chamber of commerce lists the names of merchants who have tickets for the public.

Youth Concerts Dates Set In Palo Alto

Youth Concerts, Inc. this week reminded residents of four musical events which will be presented next month and in March at the Palo Alto high school auditorium, to which the area's young people have been invited.

First of the affairs will be Feb. 19 and will feature the San Jose Junior Symphony orchestra; second will be Feb. 26 and feature a Peninsula Comic Opera presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado;" a San Francisco Operatic Quartet will be featured at the March 11 concert and the Eger players an instrumental quartet, will take to the stage on March 18.

All of the Sunday afternoon affairs begin at 2:30 p.m.

Members of the executive board sponsoring the concerts include, from Menlo Park area

Mrs. George Argall, secretary; Mrs. Donald Blackmarr, program chairman; Mrs. William Kratt, chairman of advisors; Mrs. John F. Miller, Junior League representative; Mrs. Ralph Davies and Mrs. Marvin Chodorow.

Tickets may be reserved by contacting Mrs. Myron Kirsch, 1458 Dana avenue, Palo Alto.

READYING PLAY AT M-A

"LET'S TAKE that first scene over again," says director Mr. Somers, in the middle of another rehearsal of "Cheaper by the Dozen," senior class play at Menlo-Atherton high school. The biographical production concerns Frank Gilbreth, motion study expert extraordinary, who is justly accused of running his large family like a factory. Two of his nine kids are pictured above—Frank Jr., the eldest boy (Fred Stark) and Ernestine (Sue Erstrom) who narrate parts of the play. It will be presented Jan. 20 and 21 in the Menlo-Atherton multi-purpose building.

Around the Classroom:

Science Research Programs Are Underway in Menlo Park Schools

Miss Clara Bolei, fourth grade teacher at Laurel school, is conducting an unusual program in individual natural science research.

The youngsters have done their research on different animals, and are now writing special reports which they will present to the class in the near future. To accompany the reports, many of the children have made their own illustrations of the animals they are studying. Miss Bolei has one large picture, surprisingly lifelike, some 16 by 10 inches, sketched and colored in with crayon. Some of the children are making papier mache models of their animals.

* * *

In Sam Green's third grade at Laurel school, there is a "balanced" aquarium in the making. The tank has been given the class, but the rest of the careful planning necessary to a well-functioning aquarium has been up to the third graders, who have been doing individual research and making special reports to gain the necessary knowledge.

The aquarium must have sand to hold plants and catch waste products, there must be snails to keep down the algae and absorb other wastes ,and plant life to absorb the carbon dioxide of the fish and produce the necessary oxygen. The fish, of course, must be compatible.

A pair of Siamese fighting fish would not do at all, they have learned.

* * *

Fremont school is making the most of the new large basement room created when district work crews, working over the holidays, knocked out a separating wall between two unused, substandard classrooms.

The Menlo Park recreation department has already begun using the new facilities for their dance class, scheduled on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, and Saturday mornings.

For the first time, Fremont classes are using basement facilities for folk dancing, two classes at a time. Early this week, the two fourth grades, two fifth grades and two sixth grades spent their afternoon physical education periods folk dancing in the enlarged area.

According to Principal Homer Alderman, the next PTA meeting, scheduled soon, is to be held there. The room will also serve as the school's audio-visual room, and on Thursdays as a practice room for music instructor Lee Hill's classes in brass and percussion instruments.

* * *

The Fremont second grades of Miss Genevieve Moran and Mrs. Maxine Halverson are planning field trips to the Palo Alto Times to see a newspaper being printed in connection with their study of community life.

The youngsters are looking for a suitable afternoon date. Afternoons have the preference because their front office guides are less busy and, more important for the children, the presses are always rolling in full swing.

* * *

In the sixth grade at Laurel school, teacher Richard Kilgallen is guiding a selected student committee in a science research program. The class is now doing careful background research reading on the subject which the committee will treat in a series of demonstration experiments.

Head demonstrator is sixth grader Dean Gits, who will present several experiments to the class in the near future with the assistance of Mr. Kilgallen. The experiments will be designed to illustrate the facts that:

1. Air has weight;
2. Air is essential to the flowing of water (the siphon principle);
3. The influences of air conditions on weather.

There will be a followup discussion of the experiments and the fundamental principles they are designed to illustrate.

Unusual facet of the program is that Principal Ennio Ciolli will be tape recording the whole affair in order to put the demonstration and discussion to double duty. With the playback of the recorder, the youngsters will sharpen up their language skills to criticize their discussion and speaking techniques.

Down to Earth:

Trees, Although Most Valuable Garden Item, Are Most Abused

By TERRY LEE

Perhaps because of their sturdy, rugged appearance, trees are subjected to often harmfully rough physical treatment.

Many a thoughtful gardener will look casually upoh the bark damage inflicted by a lawnmower, or let a rope from a swing "saw" into unprotected bark. He will burn trash or set up a barbecue grill underneath a tree or use a broadleaf weed killer on the surrounding grass. All these malpractices may cost him the life of his tree.

Of all the blights that take their toll of fine shade trees each year, the most damaging, in rapidly expanding communities, is the bulldozer. This earth-churning monster can tear bark and upheave roots, dump soil or pull it away until there is nothing left of a great tree, easily valued at a thousand dollars.

One way of saving such a tree during construction is to box the trunk with strong boards nailed to uprights. When grade changes are necessary, a low retaining wall should be built around the tree, away from the trunk. When the grade is lowered, this can remain as an attractive seat wall. If the grade is raised, this area can be filled gradually with a porus material which will promote new growth and assure areation and drainage.

The average shade tree, suddenly finding itself involved in city life, probably suffers more from lack of moisture than anything else.

The top soil and leafy humus, so essential for insulation and moisture control, has probably been scraped off and the heavy machine packed the soil so the roots are cut off from air and water.

MOISTURE

Building sewer and drainage lines may alter the ground moisture so the tree no longer has the water it needs.

And if this tree was protected from wind and shaded by other trees which have been removed, it will suffer from sunscald when left to stand alone.

The lack of regard for trees on property is a great surprise to me. They add so much to the appearance and value of the property, and often have influenced the purchase in the first place.

The National Shade Tree conference has suggested a method by which a reasonable estimate of a tree's value can be made. (1) Compute the number of square inches in a crosssection of the trunk. This is done by squaring the radius and multiplying by 3.1416.

(2) Value this at $5 per square inch of cross-section, modified by species, health and form.

Thus a 20-inch diameter tree, perfect in every respect, would be valued at $1570.

(3) Since all trees are not equally desirable, they should be rated percentage-wise, with the most desirable valued at 100 per cent and the least at 20 per cent. Suppose our hypothetical tree is short-lived, making it worth only 60 per cent of the total, or $942. It is also lacking in symmetry and only in fair health. This makes it worth only 40 per cent of the previous classification, and its value is $376.

GARDEN CALENDAR WEEK OF JAN. 12

The grey powder on the leaves of some of your shrubs is mildew. It can be controlled with a fungicide spray. Loosening the soil around the roots of the plant also helps by letting air into the water soaked ground.

* * *

This is the time to spray the wild grasses that have come up like green fuzz everywhere the ground is bare. There is a perfectly safe spray to use around your shrubbery, for it kills only grass and not broad-leafed plants.

Be very careful NOT to get it on your lawn. It is called "wild grass killer" and should be used when the grass is young and the ground wet.

Broad-leafed weeds like mustard and thistles should be pulled up. You can cut them off below ground by using an asparagus knife—a marvelous forked, sharp blade on a comfortable handle.

* * *

Leaves left on your rose bushes should be pulled off and branches thinned out and cut back. It is best to do this with a pruning guide in hand.

New, bare-rooted bushes are set in a hole with gravel in the bottom and a cone of heavy soil in the middle. The roots are spread around the cone and covered with topsoil enriched with peat moss and rotted manure. Be sure the bud union is level or just above the ground.

My favorite roses for this area are: Peace, yellow-pink; Charlotte Armstrong, red-pink; First Love pink; Peach Blow, blush ;pink Fred Edmonds, orange; Snowbird, white; Chrysler Imperial, red; Eclipse, yellow. Good floribundas are Ma Perkins and Lilibet, pink; Garnette, red.

* * *

All-America selections are chosen from new plants submitted to the All-America seed trials for testing in 26 trial grounds set up across the United States.

They are compared and rated in each particular soil and climate. This year Fire Dance petunia and Gold Pak carrot have been chosen. Fire Dance has salmon red flowers with a yellow throat, grows a foot high and even wider.

Gold Pak is a slender, sweet carrot, rich orange and fine grained all the way through. It was developed by our own Ferry-Morse Seed company, who cautions that it needs a friable soil. Last year's winners were Paleface petunia (white multiflora) and Seminole snapbean (plump, tender, good for freezing).

Ron Stademan Holds B Scoring Record

Ron Stademan, the leading scorer on Burlingame's varsity basketball team this season, holds the Peninsula Athletic League lightweight scoring record. Stademar bucketed 157 points for the Panthers' championship quintet last season.

South San Francisco's Jim Vaughan also broke the existing record with 155 points last season. The record was 153 by Jim Carter of Burlingame in 1954.

Teeny Rowe of Willow Glen holds the Southern division record, also set last year. Rowe scored 137 points.

Best average in history belongs to Gene Ratto, who scored 14.7 points a game for South San Francisco in 1951.

Stademan led Burlingame to the PAL title in a two-of-three playoff series with Menlo-Atherton last March.

Like the varsity, the top all-time PAL lightweight scorers have all been in the last several years. The top scorers:

Industrial, Class B Cage Circuits Open Second Rounds of Play at Burgess

Second rounds of Class B and Industrial league basketball play got underway this week at Burgess park gym, but neither league had completed first rounds of play so statistics were still incomplete.

League officials, however, were to meet and decide a date for at least one playoff game: That which would pit the Pacific Service Employees association against National Seals. The PSEA had to leave play before completing its schedule, because all team members are emergency flood damage repairmen.

The first round of the B league play was also called early, but the picture was otherwise confused by the fact that there was a three-way tie for first place in the five-team loop. This was largely by virtue of the fact that Derry's feed and fuel company team never posted a victory.

For the B league, first games of the second round was to be played last night after the Recorder went to press. They were to pit Menlo AC and Derry's at 7 p.m. and Menlo Motors and GC at 8 p.m. Lum Toy Florists were to draw a bye.

The I league got underway Tuesday with the following results:

National Seals clobbered Chemical Process company of Redwood City by an impressive 35-10 score while Oddstad Homes, in a closely-fought duel, managed to hold Varian associates down and squeak by with a 23-21 win.

NEXT WEEK

Next week, on Jan. 17 at PSEA will play its second round game with Chemical Process corporation at 7 p.m.; Varian associates will vie with National Seals at 8 p.m. and Oddstad will draw a bye.

The B league will take to the court on Wednesday night, with Menlo Motors meeting the AC at 7 p.m. and Lum Toy meeting Derry at 8 p.m. GC will have the bye that evening.

Both leagues are sponsored by the Menlo Park Recreation department with Director Stan Sexton in charge. Sexton reiterated this week that plans call for playoffs between winners of first and second rounds, so the present muddled statistics cloud the possible outcome of the league somewhat.

Menlo-Atherton line coach Don Dorfmeier won an all-CCAA mention as an end at Fresno State.

Bride From Menlo Park:

Mack-Ray Rites Read Saturday in San Jose

Now on a wedding trip to "points unknown" are Mark Stephen Ray Jr. and his bride, the former Mary Louise Mack of Menlo Park.

The young couple repeated marriage vows Saturday morning at a Methodist church in San Jose, the 11 a.m. ceremony witnessed by family members and close friends.

Escorted by her father, Ernest E. Mack, the bride was wearing a ballerina gown of white brocade, the long torso bodice finished with short sleeves and a bateau neckline lowered in back. A white hat clasped the short veil, and she carried a white prayer book overlaid with orchids.

Patricia Arnold, also of Menlo Park, served as Mary's sole attendant, donning ballerina length pink organdy for the occasion.

Donald Mack, the bride's brother, was best man for the bridegroom, whose parents, the senior Mr. and Mrs. Ray of Toledo, Ohio, were unable to attend the wedding.

After the nuptials, the newlyweds were feted at a "brunch" held in Rickey's. The reception will be given in a little over a week at the home of the bride's parents.

Future home for the new Mr. and Mrs. Ray will be Redwood City; the bridegroom, who attended school in Crossville, Tennessee, is currently stationed with the navy at Hunter's Point. His bride studied at Menlo-Atherton high school and is a former member of the Drama club there.

Atherton Lass To Be Wed On April 15

BRIDE-ELECT
—Ingersoll photo

Romantic tidings, revealed at a recent cocktail party, linked together the names of Mary L. Franceschini of Atherton and C. Anthony (Vic) Riviello of San Francisco, who are making plans for an April 15 wedding.

The engagement was heralded at the Selby lane home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Franceschini.

An alumna of Notre Dame high school and college in Belmont, the bride-elect is presently employed with a business firm in Menlo Park. Her fiance, the son of Joseph D. Riviello and the late Mrs. Riviello of San Francisco, attended San Francisco State college and Stanford university; he now teaches school in San Carlos.

Mary is the sister of Robert Franceschini of Redwood City and the granddaughter of George Fabbro, also of Redwood City. The prospective benedict has one sister, Mrs. Robert Amsler, who resides in Southern California.

Previews Open On Januasy 20

The worldwide celebration of Mozart's 200th birthday will be the keynote for the opening 1956 Symphony Preview sponsored by the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., in cooperation with the San Francisco Symphony association.

As always, the series will be open free to the public in Peacock court, Hotel Mark Hopkins. The first event, 11 a.m. Friday, January 20, will feature Joseph Kerman, assistant professor of music at UC, in a talk on "Mozart and His Piano Concertos." Enrique Jorda, San Francisco Symphony conductor, will be his guest.

Reservations for luncheons following the morning Previews may be made by calling the banquet office of the Mark Hopkins at EX 2-3434.

June Conner Bride-Elect of Fred Peterson

At a cocktail party given last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Conner of Partridge avenue announced the engagement of their only daughter, June Marise, to Fred S. Peterson.

The bride-elect was graduated from elementary schools in Menlo Park, Sequoia high school and attended San Jose State college. She is a member of the Executive Secretaries, Inc., Peninsula Graphic Arts association and Captain in the Civil Air Patrol, California Wing headquarters.

On Tuesday evening she was installed as Noble Grand of Olive Branch Rebekah lodge No. 43, Redwood City. She is employed by the Peninsula Lithograph company of Redwood City.

A veteran of four years service with the marine corps, the prospective bridegroom attended Sequoia high school and has been employed for 14 years with the Redwood City Water department.

The couple are planning a summer wedding.

Kay Allard Is Engaged

Wedding bells will ring in early September for Mary Kay Allard and George De Weese, whose engagement was announced last week by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allard of 18th avenue.

Both Kay and George are attending the University of Redlands, where the bride-to-be is in her sophomore year.

Kay was active in many phases of student life during her years at Menlo-Atherton high school, including the Golden Key honorary society, life membership in the California Scholarship federation, business manager for Bear Tracks and commissioner of girls' athletics, to name a few.

She is the sister of Mrs. Charles Schmidt of Texas and of Charles Allard, who is stationed in San Diego with the navy.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lloyd De Weese of South Pasadena and the late Mr. De Weese.

Red Cross Launches Classes; Announces Gray Ladies Need

A pair of new classes, one in "Mother and Baby Care," and one in "Home Care of the Sick," will be launched this month at Sequoia Red Cross chapter house, according to Mrs. Andrew Yakas, chairman for the classes.

Registrations are now being taken for the "Mother and Baby Care" course, which will start at 7:30 p.m. on Monday. The series will be held henceforth each Monday and Wednesday, and prospective parents are especially encouraged to take the classes together.

Latest techniques in caring for the baby will be taught.

"Home Care of the Sick" course begins January 17 at 9:30 a.m., and will be given each Tuesday and Thursday morning at the same hour thereafter.

The basic fundamentals of home nursing, with practical suggestions for utilizing materials already on hand in the average home, are demonstrated. Civil Defense recommends that at least one person in every household be prepared for emergencies arising from natural or war-caused disaster by training in the Red Cross course.

Interested persons should register at the chapter at once to be included in the forthcoming series. The chapter is located at 3540 Middlefield road; the telephone is EM 6-3851, and registration may be made by phone.

An expanded Gray Lady program at Sequoia hospital requiring additional volunteers has become the immediate concern of Sequoia chapter of the Red Cross, it was announced this week by Mrs. Clement Jennings, Gray Lady chairman for the chapter.

Heretofore, chapter Gray Ladies have served during the morning hours only at the hospital. Now, with the request by hospital authorities for an extension of the program, the chapter is short of a sufficient number of Gray Ladies, which it also supplies to the San Mateo county sanatorium and to the Veterans administration hospital.

Gray Ladies do "all the little things" for patients that make a hospital stay brighter, such as arranging flowers in the rooms, supplying books and magazines, shopping, writing letters and many other small, but important personal services which nurses and their aides have not the time to do.

SPEED RECOVERY

Hospital personnel have all agreed that inclusion of Gray Ladies in today's hospital program has become an adjunct to quick recovery.

Residents of the Menlo Park-Atherton area who have been Gray Ladies in the past or who would like to become a part of the Gray Lady tradition are requested to register with the Sequoia Red Cross as soon as possible by calling in person at the chapter house, 3540 Middlefield road, or by telephoning EM 6-3851 for an interview.

Volunteers will be briefed on Gray Lady duties in a 3-hour class January 20 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and will be required to serve at Sequoia hospital from 12:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. one afternoon a week.

The chapter hopes to start an arts and crafts program at the San Mateo county sanatorium, to comply with a request there. Patients, themselves, have indicated an interest in learning how to knit, crochet and sew, do weaving, ceramics, copper and leather tooling, textile painting and silk screening.

Residents of the Sequoia chapter area who have some knowledge of arts and crafts—not necessarily expert—could contribute a very worthwhile community service during the coming months by making it possible for the chapter to implement this needful service at the sanatorium.

Honor Society

Mrs. Bonnie Rector Robertson of 1019 Hollyburne avenue has been elected to membership in the San Jose State college chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholarship fraternity, one of nine January 27 graduates to be so honored.

Phi Kappa Phi corresponds to Phi Beta Kappa, which is restricted to liberal arts colleges.

Mrs. Roberts is getting her AB degree in music and a music secondary teaching credential.

For Hillview PTA:

FIRSTHAND DATA

William Dempsey, program manager at TV station KPIX, who covered the President's Conference on Education in Washington, D. C., will report on it Tuesday at the regular 8 p.m. meeting of Hillview PTA.

Formerly production manager and educational director for KPIX, Mr. Dempsey attended Augustana college, Illinois, receiving his master's degree from Iowa and currently working on a doctorate at Stanford.

To accompany his speech he will bring film taken at the conference so that Hillview parents can hear firsthand the views of the delegates.

Cub Scouts of Pack 63 will conduct the Flag Ceremony.

New AAUW Fellowship

Mrs. Ross L. (Juanita) Wilson was honored Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Richard G. Bremer, president of the Menlo-Atherton branch of AAUW presented a check for $1050 to the state AAUW fellowship chairman, one of two fellowships from it to be in Mrs. Wilson's name.

A resident of 230 South Balsima way, Ladera, Mrs. Wilson was a founder of the local branch of the American association of University Women. In her speech of acceptance, she noted that the fellowship was "as much a surprise to me . . ."

The second grant from the $1050 check presented to Mrs. Neville T. Massa will bear the name of the Menlo-Atherton branch.

Attending the fellowship meeting, held at Stanford university Women's clubhouse, was Mrs. Felisa Contreras, international grantee (recipient of AAUW money this year) from the Philippines.

Cookie Sale March 2-13

A third cookie, a thin lemon-flavored wafer, will be added this year to the selection offered by Girl Scouts during their annual fundraising cookie sale March 2 to March 13.

In 1954, according to the Sequoia area Girl Scout council bulletin (now called "Trefoil Trumpet"), profit from the sweet-tooth sale netted $12,090, which was used to supplement United Crusade funds for current operation, including major physical improvements in the camping program.

Troops themselves realized profits totaling $2360 to help augment their treasuries.

Last year the council burned the mortgage on Woodhaven, and this year Scout officials have their eyes on an additional camp site in the High Sierras. This could be realized if cookie sales are successful.

Annual "Story Hour" Heads January Calendar for AAUW

An established tradition in Menlo Park, the "Story Hour," sponsored by two committees of the Menlo-Atherton branch AAUW, will be held this year on Saturday, January 21, in Encinal school's multi-purpose room.

Children through the third grades are invited to gather for storytelling beginning at 10 a.m. Co-sponsors of the event are the pre-school and creative arts committees.

* * *

Other AAUW activities circled on the January calendar include:

SOCIAL STUDIES—the branch social studies committee will consider "Limitations on Freedom" at its 12:30 p.m. dessert meeting next Tuesday. Hostess will be Mrs. E. M. Mariner, 3105 Parkdale way, Redwood City; members planning to attend are asked to call her at EM 8-0803.

Participating in the discussion are Mrs. Albert Bandura, Mrs. Elmer Hanson and Mrs. Bruce Waybur. All committee members are asked to read ART III, Sec. 3 of the United States Constitution.

* * *

PRE-SCHOOL — Mrs. H. M. Conley, 570 Oakfield lane, will serve as hostess Tuesday evening when members of the pre-school committee meet to hear Dr. Charles Respini, Palo Alto child psychologist, discuss "Problems of Children."

Those planning to attend the 3:30 p.m. conclave may call either the hostess, DA 2-9347, or the chairman, Mrs. M. D. O'Neill, EM 8-6051.

* * *

STATUS OF WOMEN — "What Women Should Know About Insurance" is the subject chosen by speakers Kenneth A. Bong and Keith McCarthy for Wednesday's status of women section meeting.

Members who will be attending the conclave, 8 p.m. at the 1770 Holly avenue home of Mrs. R. D. Tough, are requested to notify the chairman, Mrs. J. E. Von Berg at DA 3-4941.

* * *

CREATIVE ARTS—University women who are members of the creative arts committee will hold their meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday with Mrs. Henry Leicester, 560 Menlo Oaks drive. After that, the group will gather on the first and third Wednesdays of each month to continue their mosaic-making project.

O. K. Program for:

FATHERS, SONS

Especially for fathers and sons' is next Wednesday's Oak Knoll PTA meeting, which will feature a panel of well known local sports authorities including Norm Standlee, Tom Haynie, Stanford swimming coach, Jack Weiershauser, Stanford track coach, and Lew Knights, physical education director for the Menlo Park Elementary School District.

Mr. Knight will discuss the general athletic program for the school system.

Fourth grades are the hosts for the meeting, which opens at 7:45 p.m. in the school multi-use room. Fourth grade teachers Georgia Schikel and Jeanne Wilsman will join parents Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dwiggins, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. George Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Barney McClure, Mr. and Mrs. John Chadwick and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Drum in host duties.

The opening flag ceremony will be conducted by Cub Pack 116 of Apache Dance.

RFD Thursday:

Setting for Hunt Ball

Quite a deviation from the sporting events of its three years was Saturday's gala Hunt Ball staged for members and guests of the Los Altos Hunt club at the lovely Woodside residence of the John A. T. Galvins.

Garlands and red ribbons festooned adobe walls, with more color provided by the party-goers themselves, the women in formals of every hue, several of the men in proper huntsman attire—pink coats—others in black ties.

Aside from the dance band, special music was supplier by a quartet of Scotch bagpipers — their tunes provided the melodic background to a pair of spritely dances, one a sword dance and one a highland fling, executed by costumed girls.

MIDNIGHT SUPPER

Supper from hot chafing dishes was served at midnight downstairs in the Galvins' "ballet room;" guests separated into smaller groups at a number of tables covered with red and white checked cloths.

One of the evening's highlights was the selection of the three best-dressed women attending, each of whom walked on with a beagle similarly attired and walked off with a complimentary bottle of champagne.

Mrs. Robert Lawson, mistress of the hunt, took first honors; second was Miss Margaret Anslow, sister of the hostess, who wore silver blue brocade with a match-

Mrs. Taylor Local Candidate For Honors in Horticulture

Mrs. C. V. Taylor, vice president of the Garden club of Menlo Park and horticultural chairman of District 4-B of California Garden clubs, has been nominated as a candidate for "Woman of the Year in Horticulture" by the Garden club of Menlo Park.

This will entitle her to be a candidate for an all-expense paid trip to Europe to represent the Garden Clubs of America tour to Holland, Germany, Belgium, France and England.

The ward is given by the Horticultural Travel Foundation, Inc., of New York.

Mrs. Taylor has done some outstanding research and given papers of District 4-B meetings and plants of the nightshade family and lilies.

At the first garden show of the Garden club of Menlo Park, Mrs. Taylor was chairman, putting on an outstanding show.

Mrs. Taylor has a large garden of trees and plants of unusual varieties at their home on San Mateo drive.

She and her husband work in propagation and hybridizing of plants in their hot house and green house; they also have a most interesting collection of ferns.

Nativity Guild:

ELECTION, SALE

Mrs. Jack J. Lovejoy handed her gavel to Mrs. Fred W. Armstrong last Tuesday, as members of the Nativity Guild held their annual election of officers.

Others who will take over their new duties at the next meeting, on February 7, include Mrs. Walter J. Healy, vice-president; Mrs. F. E. Maloney, treasurer; Mrs. Robert F. Schmolze, recording secretary and Mrs. D. Miller, corresponding secretary.

Just prior to the February meeting, on Friday and Saturday, the 3rd and 4th, Nativity Guild is planning a rummage sale to help augment the parish school fund. Anyone with items to donate may call Chairman Mrs. George F. Beall, DA 3-0171, or Co-chairman Mrs. Peter P. Bolich, DA 3-0932.

The two-day event will take place in Nativity hall on Oak Grove avenue.

Day Camps

Sequoia area Girl Scout council this week received permission to use Oak Knoll school grounds for three Brownie day camp sessions during the coming summer.

Sessions will be held July 7 to 12, 16 through 26 and July 30 through August 9, with sessions lasting from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

School District Superintendent Dr. Melville Homfeld, in recommending that the Girl Scouts be granted use of the grounds, pointed out that some construction activity is expected to be under way at Oak Knoll during the summer. But, he said, sufficient playground area should be available.

The Brownies will also use one classroom, for crafts work, during the sessions.

FOUNDERS' DAY PLANS GO INTO HIGH GEAR

FOR FOUNDERS' DAY OBSERVANCE—Chairmen of the joint PTA Founders' Day event, scheduled this year for Thursday, February 16, in Hillview multi-purpose room, gathered last week at Mrs. Charles Rousch's home to discuss plans for the annual tea and special program. Planners included (left to right) Mrs. Hyrum Crofts, program chairman; Mrs. Wallace Ott, general chairman; Mrs. Stanton Burns, general tea table chairman; Mrs. Rousch, invitations, and Mrs. King Howard, publicity. The 3 p.m. to 4.30 p.m. affair will again feature an original playlet to be cast this week, with rehearsals scheduled to start immediately. Hostess PTA this year is Hillview; participants include all school parent-teacher associations within the Menlo Park Elementary School District.

Sodality Officers

Mrs. Malcolm Laitenan turned over her gavel to Miss Ruth Donohoe recently, when St. Raymond's Sodality held its January installation meeting.

Assisting the new prefect this coming year will be Mrs. Daniel Meagher, vice prefect; Mrs. Edward J. Dolan, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Shannon, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Alfred Risso ,treasurer.

At that time, too, plans were made for a Mother - Daughter breakfast to be held at Rickey's on Sunday, February 5, following the monthly Communion of the ladies of the sodality.

MARILYN APLAND, Bank of America employee in Menlo Park, is a member of the women's committee, IB, sponsors of a chapter brunch at 11 a.m. Sunday at Ramor Oaks to serve as a rally for spring semester classes.

MRS. Charles W. Coale is a new AAUW member.

Gardner Dailey 'dobe Stage for Hunt Ball

ing jacket, and third was Mrs. Phil Davies, who traveled up from Monterey with her husband, her gown of blue and silver moire with a full skirted train.

Lending a special "family" feeling to the gathering was the large number of young people attending. Joan Law accompanied her parents, the Ward Laws, both distaff members wearing red, Mrs. Law's of ballerina length satin and Joan's, in taffeta.

The James Floods were there, too, she in green satin, and so was their daughter, Judy, she lovely in a pale gold sari print . . . Patty Somers, in pink with a blue cummerbund, was attending with her parents, the Willard Somers, and Ann Harris, in blue tulle, arrived with Linda Shine, who was wearing white.

Other guests were the Douglas Carvers, she in white chiffon, the Marshall Fishers, she wearing black Chantilly lace, the Charles Gillespies and their daughter, Jane, the Hervey Park Clarkes and their daughter, Antonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee were there from Marysville, visiting with his mother, Mrs. John McKee, whose home is on the Frank Hooper estate. The Frank Hoopers Jr. were a colorful couple, he in plaid dinner jacket and she, in a dress sprinkled with diamants.

From the city were Lord Robert Hadow, British consul, and his lady, and the Harry East Millers.

Black was chosen by Mrs. Richard Elkus, there with her husband and their son, Peter, as well as by Mrs. Alexander Donald. The Richard Marshalls were attending with their son, Kerry, and daughter, Nan, while others among the young set were June Eastman, Sam Eastman III and Diana Hyde.

* * *

The Galvins' house, located on Mountain Home road and Manzanita drive, was originally built by architect Gardner Dailey for Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Elliott, who then called the place "Terra Buena." The adobe bricks which went into its construction were made right on the property.

A drive lined with white oleanders leads to a small court with a well in the center, placed under the silvery branches of an olive tree. The residence, itself, has a large approach terrace.

The adobe brick is combined with pine panelling in the living room, which the Galvins have enlarged to twice its initial size, with high ceiling bookcases added. The barbecue room leads to the patio where large braziers were kept burning for Saturday's party.

REDWOOD GROVE

Beyond the terrace, with low adobe walls, is a creek and red wood grove where years ago Mrs. Elliott had planted a rare Dawn Redwood. Beyond the outside dining area are the swimming pool, terraces and hot house.

Another recent innovation by the Galvins is the riding ring and stables, just left of the entrance, and a bedroom wing below which is the "ballet room."

Originally from Australia, the Galvins have spent much of their time in Hongkong. A few months back they and their daughter, Trish, her friend, June Eastman, and Milo Radovitch, riding master, attended the Irish Sweepstakes. —the Galvins purchasing horses with the help of Milo Radovitch's expert opinion.

The Galvins have also purchased some 40 acres and several houses belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale.

The houses have been remodeled and made habitable, and are currently used as dwellings for the Woodside faculty. Called the "Play Pen," the acreage fronts on Woodside road, adjoining the Jackling and Harris estates at the rear. The "Play Pen" is also used by Woodside children for riding.

* * *

A number of dinners preceded the Hunt Ball, among the hosts and hostesses the Richard Elkuses, Frank Hoopers Jr. and Willard Somers.

Another gathering held on the same evening was the traditional "Twelfth Night" party given by the Heber Tildens, who included Eleanor drive neighbors on their guest list.

Among those witnessing the last night of the Tildens' Christmas tree were the Merrill Morseheads, Harold Smiths, Launce Gambles, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Sultan, the Thomas Jennings, Arthur Bachmans Jr., Stewart Bauers, Mrs. Coleman Levensaler and Mrs. Helen Adams.

Date for the future is Saturday's party planned by the Lawrence Steinhardts at their home on Whisky Hill road.

Comings and goings in the area include Mrs. Walter Boardman's planned cruise to the Caribbean, with New York as the jumping-off spot, and the arrival home of the William Jasons, who took a trip East to Jamaica, the West Indies and homeward via Mexico, where they spent New Year's.

"Indian," Topic For Tri Delts

"Early History of North Carolina Indians" is the topic chosen by H. M. Doerschuk of Los Altos for his talk to be given next Wednesday, January 18, before members of the Palo Alto alliance of Delta Delta Delta.

The 8 p.m. conclave will be held at the Palo Alto home of Mrs Parkman H. Moore, 4217 Pomona avenue. Assisting the hostess chairman, Mrs. William Allhouse, are Mrs. Donald Ostrus, Mrs. Carter Roth and Mrs. Frances Grutzmacher. Mrs. Harold L. North is in charge of the program.

Mr. Doerschuk, a retired engineer, has long been a collector of Indian artifacts; his talk on Wednesday will be illustrated with several items from his extensive collection, much of which is now on exhibition in museums throughout the country.

All area Tri Delts are invited to attend, and may contact Mrs. William Dunlap at DA 2-5514, for further information or assistance with transportation.

"I.Q." Film For Belle Haven

Is your child a brilliant student or do you sometimes wonder if you expect too much of him?

In either case, the January 18 meeting of the Belle Haven PTA should be of interest to all parents. A film entitled "Preface to Life" will be shown, which deals with the intelligence progress in children.

Dr. John Schrock, psychologist and psychometrist, will be on hand to discuss with parents their view on the subject. Dr. Schock is currently serving the Ravenswood Elemetnary School District.

Also on the program will be songs by the Sweet Adelines, an excellent singing group.

Refreshments will be served at 3 p.m. followed by the business meeting at 8:30 p.m. On the agenda will be the election of a nominating committee whose duty will be to seek candidates for the February election of officers.

Palangi Recital

Local music lovers are invited to attend a recital by Carl Palangi opera, concert and television personality, tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Notre Dame auditorium, Ralston avenue, Belmont.

The program will include three operatic arias in costume, as well as selections by Handel, Lully, Debussy, Bizet and a group of songs in English. Tickets may be purchased at the door, with students admitted at half price if accompanied by their student body cards.

Cotillion Junior Committee To Plan "Oriental Fanfare"

Junior hosts and hostesses for the Deep Peninsula Cotillions will meet Sunday at the Stanford Union to make final plans and seating arrangements for the second formal dinner dance of this season.

The event will take place on Friday, January 27, at Fellowship hall of the First Methodist church in Palo Alto. Theme for the dinner dance will be oriental, although its official title has not been announced yet.

Favors and prizes and much of the decor have been gathered from such far-away places as Singapore, Hongkong and Japan. Adding still more atmosphere will be the dinner served by eight members of the Buddhist Women's club of Palo Alto, headed by Mrs. Rideo Kaneko, in native costume.

The senior Cotillion committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. L. Armstrong, has appointed two of its members, Mrs. Herbert Dougal and Mrs. Clark L. Snyder, together with their husbands, as senior hosts for the evening.

Following their Sunday meeting, the junior hosts and hostesses will be dinner guests of the general directors of the Cotillions, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Crisofi

Ed Armstrong of Palo Alto and Greig Gowdy of Atherton are chairman and vice-chairman, respectively. Other high school boys and girls serving on the committee are:

Also, Gerry Abrahamson, Keith Brewster, Paul Cooper, Craig Duncan, Donald Genasci, Leland Groezinger, James Jones, Kingsford Jones, David Lang, Bruce Miller, Robert Perry, Herbert Rogers, Larry Snyder, Rickie Somers and Eric Stromquist.

"Freedom To Read" Session Outlined by Jewish Women

Mrs. Milton Lachenbruch of Menlo Park, legislation chairman for the California Peninsula section, National council of Jewish Women, has planned a theme of "Freedom to Read" for the council's first meeting of the year, scheduled for January 25 at 12:30 p.m. in Temple Beth El, San Mateo.

Representatives of peninsula service clubs, public interest organizations, religious interest groups, library personnel and interested persons are invited to attend the conclave, which will feature a talk by William B. Ready, assistant director of the Stanford Libraries.

Educated in Wales and Oxford, Mr. Ready is a member of the American Library association, Committee on Academic Freedom of the California Library association, and author of many stories in the Saturday Evening Post and Atlantic Monthly and frequent book reviews for other publications.

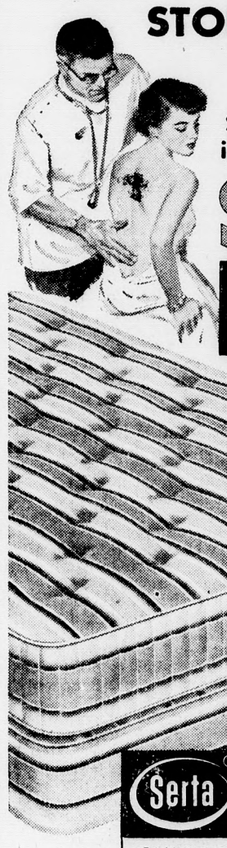

The library project, "Freedom to Read," just currently being sponsored by the National council of Jewish Women in conjunction with the YWCA, United Church Women and the National council of Negro Women, has three ultimate objectives:

First, to give more people a better understanding of the meaning and significance of "Freedom to Read;" second, to learn how the public library functions as a democratic institution contributing to the development of a free society; and third, to initiate activities which will help to build a more effective public library program.

AAUW intermediate bridge section will meet Tuesday at Mrs. N. M. McFadden's.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Jo Booth DA 3-1909

This column is devoted mostly to "the week before last's news to day" if you know what we mean.

Going back as far as we can, we hit Gail Davis' party, several weeks before Christmas! The gals got together to exchange gift while consuming goodies such as cheese dips, cupcakes, coffee and soda pop.

This was very much appreciated by the guests, who included Sarita Steinberg, Pat Hedge, Sue Estberg, Arline Cottrell, Marcia Staples, Bunny Gruner, Ann Stapleton, Sue White, Sue Barron, Bev Baker, Sue Chase and Kathy Farnsworth.

In this pre-Christmas rush, we can't leave out the dinner party hosted by Rod Minkler. He gathered not only some familiar names from M-A, but also many new friends from Colorado who live in the area.

Among the guests at Rod's home you might have recognized Bob Millar, Fran Feiten, Tom Austin, Joanne Felkner, Walt Senter, Cathy Peterson, Alanna Cottrell, Judy Anderson, Jerry Ellis and Evelyn Hodges.

Ever heard of a New Year's Eve eve party? No, you're not seeing double—merely the description of Arla Krause's party! Plenty of food, including such tasty items as cake, cookies and punch, went over big with the guests, as did dancing and the game.

Milling around there were Sheri Adams, Charlie Dahl, Judy Bechtal, Barry Davidson, Dorothy Crofts, Marilyn Crooker, Jim Sherman, Barbara Dickman, Bob Perry, Bill Bull, Joan Wickstrom, Marlene Brown, Donna Collins, Shirley Clark and Pete McIntyre.

On New Year's day, several M-A-ites could have been seen making new friends at an open house hostessed by Helen Brainerd, for friends from several bay area schools.

Names you might recognize are Alice Taylor, Merry Davenport, Joanne Broeren, Lynn Nicholas, Ginny Levensaler, Cris Cochrane, Sue Samuels, Jacque Cook, Ruth Owen, Carl Rountree, Robin Nichols, Pat Kelly, Bill Corbus, Robin Moseley and John and Larry Hancock.

Barry Davidson was host once again to a large group of kids; purpose—watch the Rose Bowl parade.

Living it up were people like Charlie Dahl, Sheri Adams, Marilyn Ullman, Ann Christie, Bill Menta, Jim Sherman, Barbara Dickman, Joanne Broeren, Carol Furkhouser, Robin Nichols and Linda Price.

* * *

A typical slumberless party was one had recently by Karen Freitag. The inside dope includes some exposes of pillow fights and letting air out of air mattresses in the middle of the night, as well as being awakened by a wet sponge, which just goes to show, you can't trust your own friends sometimes.

Peace was made over food in the morning, however, and Libby Bell, Pat Brown, Melinda Moore and Barbara Maider are now reconciled.

* * *

With an eagle eye fixed on January 20 and 21, and the other on a half-washed flat, many seniors got together to work on the sets for the senior play, "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Toiling away one half of the weekend on such things were Diane Ackerman, Mike Benjamin, Bill Wood, Carol Blake, Clift DiFranco, Garth Stevick, Delores Wilkie, Alayne Thurston, Gaylle Montana, Phyllis Watson, Andy Schwarz, Bud Varty, Lynn Kramer, Jean Jewell, Greig Gowdy, Rhoda Maxfield, Nancy McDowell, Jerry Angelo, Barbara de Augeles, Teddie Grindle, Dave Mannebach, and the excellent supervision of Mr. O'Donnell.

The cast of the play wasn't asleep either, and on the second half of the weekend, pulled themselves together to work long and hard on lines and action.

* * *

If there's anything that appeals to the ski fan more than skiing, we don't know what it is. Therefore, it is with great pleasure that we report these ski enthusiasts got a present of gorgeous weather and trips to Dodge Ridge to brighten their holidays.

Seen there were Linda Foley, Marge Healy, Sue Juvet, Bill Bishop, Brent Lambert, Jim Kjeergard, Bill Augenstein, Spinner Johnston and Chuck Weesner.

Any girl will agree that an old-fashioned hen party is just the way to catch up on the latest news. And the gals at Kathy Farnsworth's did just that, plus devouring some delicious cake and coffee.

Present were Marcia Staples, Gail Davis, Bunny Gruner, Carol Keller, Sue Chase, Pat Hedge and Sue White.

* * *

We have several travelers to report over the past few weeks, including—

—Don Genasci and Sue Barron, who both spent some time in Palm Springs, soaking up the sun;

—Tom Gore, who hied himself to Kansas for the vacation, and

—Judie Hicks, who saw the Rose Bowl—in person!

Barbecue dinners are fun, and when the girls do the cooking and the boys do the eating, it's even more fun!

What we actually mean is that at a party held at Martha Wright's, the gals slaved over a hot grill to produce such tempting tidbits as hot dogs and hamburgers and loads of potato salad, chips, etc.

After feasting on this, the gang took off for the nearest bowling alleys, finishing off a swell evening. Chef Cardinis for the dinner included Nancy McDowell, Rhoda Maxfield, Nancy Heinrich, Linda Price, Faye Johnson and Diane Sullivan. Victims— oops —diners were Jim Angelo, Howie Anawalt, Tom Hodgson, George Davis, Paul Clarkson, Mike Tielmans and Fred Gayer.

Drama section—capsule review of "I Am a Camera"—No Leica—and then there was "Silk Stockings" which had a long run on Broadway. Har har!

Earle Jones Claimed Bride In Carmel

Earle Feurt Jones Jr., a former resident of Menlo Park, claimed Irene Vivian Tikvica of Sunnyvale as his bride during a 12:30 p.m. ceremony conducted Sunday in the Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament of Mission San Carlos Borremo, Carmel.

Now on a two-week honeymoon to various California resort spots, the newlyweds will return to this area for a fortnight, then leave for Meridian, Mississippi, where the bridegroom will manage a hotel-restaurant.

The bride, daughter of the Nicholas George Tikvicas, chose a princess styled gown of white silk taffeta and Alencon lace, which she wore with a fingertip veil held in place by a taffeta pillbox; her flowers were a shower bouquet of phalaenopsis and bouvardia centered with a white orchid.

Preceding the bride were Cornelia Matijasevich, maid of honor and Mrs. Raymond Tikvica, her sister-in-law, bridesmaid.

Earle, son of the senior Mr and Mrs. Jones of Claremont, had asked the bride's brother, Nicholas, to serve as best man. Lyman Wesley Brown and O. Warren Hillgren, former Harvard graduate school classmates, were ushers.

Del Monte lodge at Pebble Beach was the setting for a champagne luncheon attended by approximately 100 guests after the nuptials.

Co-op Nursery Meets Monday

Mrs. Barbara Connell, clinical psychologist and assistant director at Stanford Counseling center, will be guest speaker at Monday's 8 p.m. general meeting of Menlo Cooperative Nursery school parents.

"Preface to Life," a film, will be followed by Mrs. Connell's talk and a group discussion led by her. Fathers are especially invited to attend the session, which also includes coffee and refreshments.

Mrs. Thomas P. Searles, membership chairman, announces opening in both the 3-4 year old and 4-5 year old groups at the nursery center; information may be had by calling her at DA 2-6366.

'East Pakistan' Program Topic

Mothers' council of the Menlo Park Presbyterian church will present a program by Mrs. Raymond Johnson, recently returned to the United States after two years in East Pakistan, at its January 18 meeting set for 9:45 a.m.

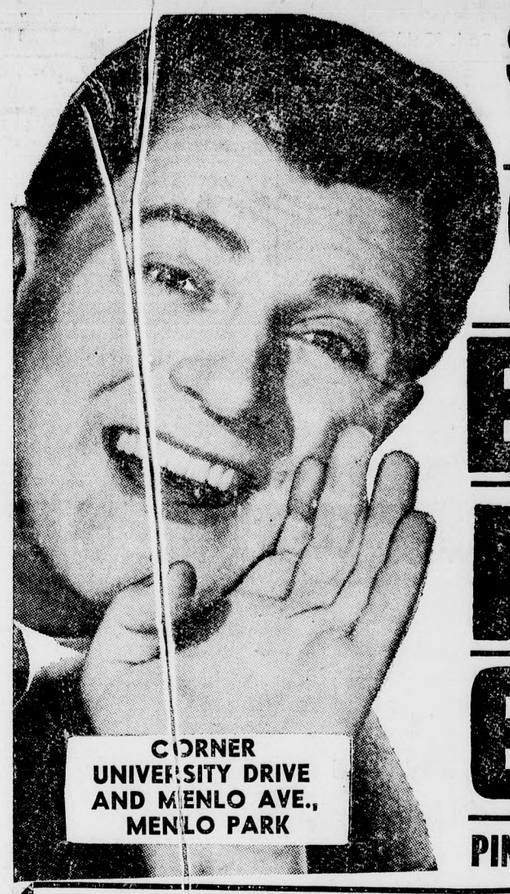

Mrs. Johnson, who will speak on "The Status of Women in East Pakistan," was administrative assistant to her husband, who was with the Asia Foundation and also helped to develop women's organizations there.

All mothers of children from cradle through primary grades will find the meeting of particular interest. Child care will be provided.

Janet Fujinari

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Y. Fujinari of 2367 Poplar avenue announce the engagement of their sister, Janet Eiko Fujinari to Fusao Nagareda, son of Mr. and Mrs Yoshio Nagareda of Gilroy.

Miss Fujinari is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Buntaro Fujinari. She is a graduate of the class of '52 at Menlo-Atherton and is now in her senior year at nursing school in San Jose Hospital. She will graduate next August. She is at present living in the nurses' dormitory at the hospital.

Desert Holiday Is Motif for Auxiliary Show

Gay sombreros and baskets, bright yellows and oranges, carrying through a Mexican motif, will convert the Allied Arts Guild lunchroom into a "Desert Holiday" on Monday when the Palo Alto Junior auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent home presents its first fashion showing of 1956.

Mrs. James Sweeney, chairman of decorations, will be assisted by Mrs. Ellis Walker and Mrs. Robert Cody of Menlo Park, Mrs. Richard Byrne of Atherton, Mrs. Thomas Burke, Mrs. Peter Edmonson, Mrs. Don Hasford, Mrs. Prescott Lloyd, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Earl Morris and Mrs. Gerome Robinson.

According to Mrs. George Hurst, fashion show chairman, resort, cruise and spring styles will be worn by Mrs. Peter Black and Mrs. Cody of Menlo Park, Mrs. Robert Beattie, Mrs .Edmonson, Mrs. Vaughn Ferguson, Mrs. Myron Kirsch, Mrs. Charles Luthy, Mrs. Jerry Masters, Mrs. Reginald Rumwell and Mrs. Lyle Spencer.

Mrs. Edward Mansfield and Mrs. Thomas Siebert are assisting Mrs. Hurst.

All proceeds from the fashion show help support the Stanford Convalescent home. Reservations may be made by calling DA 4-2588.

Sigma Kappa's Meet Thursday

Sigma Kappas of the afternoon group of the Peninsula alumnae chapter will gather at the Menlo Park home of Mrs. Charles E. Fagg, 645 Hobart street, for the Thursday, January 19 meeting.

A short business session will start promptly at 1 p.m., followed by a program and tea.

Mrs. Rachel Bentley, local artist and member of the Palo Alto Art club, will display a group of her watercolors and tell of the inspiration derived from the arts. Mrs. Bentley is an exhibitor well known on the peninsula, who originally turned to painting for recreation after raising her family.

Mrs. E. A. Hansen will assist the hostess in serving. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Fagg at DA 2-7022.

The alumnae's evening section will meet January 23 at 7:45 p.m. at the Palo Alto home of Mrs. Charles R. Shoemaker, 725 Marion avenue. Any Sigmas interested in attending this may call the hostess at DA 5-1825.

Costano PTA To View Play

Health facilities available through Costano school will be demonstrated at the next regular meeting of the PTA, Monday, January 16, at 8 p.m. in the school kindergarten room.

The demonstration will be given through the dramatic medium, via a play directed by Mrs. Jean Johnson, school nurse, and Mrs. Laura Franseen, county audiometrist.

Cast includes John Foster, principal, Mrs. Kenneth Prince, Mrs. Melvin Grow, Mrs. Edward Haines, Mrs. Richard Robinson, Joseph Kirwan, George Stephens and Joan Finkelstein, speech therapist for the school district.

During the business meeting which precedes the program, a nominating committee will be elected to prepare a slate of officers for presentation at the February meeting.

A social hour presided over by the 4th and 5th combination and 5th grade room mothers will follow.

Green Oaks To See Film

"Of Human Growth" a documentary film on birth and growth of the child, that has been recommended by the Ravenswood Elementary School district's PTA Coordinating Council to be included in the curriculum for seventh and eighth grade pupils, will be shown to parents of Green Oaks PTA next week.

Monday night, January 16, has been set aside for a showing of the film to all mothers, with Mrs. Caroline Greene, dean of girls, to serve as commentator. Tuesday night, January 17, the dad's will have their turn to view the film, Rupert Willoughby, dean of boys, has been asked to comment on the movie.

At the present time, the Ravenswood Elementary School district board of trustees has the council's recommendation under advisement, and are awaiting reaction from parents of both Green Oaks and Menlo Oaks schools before taking any action.

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST BERG and their three sons, Ernie, Bobbie and Eddie and Ernest Sr.'s mother moved from their home on Euclid avenue to their new home on Partridge avenue in Menlo Park.

Milestone for Little House: 1000th Member!

Menlo Park Recorder
AND GAZETTE
ORGANIZATION AND SOCIAL NEWS
THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1956 PAGE 15

1000TH MEMBER

Little House passed another important milestone when its 1000th membership card was issued last week to Mrs. Edward A. Coonha, 759 Roble avenue, a resident of Menlo Park for six years.

Mrs. Coonha and her late husband, an attorney, had lived for 30 years in San Francisco, where her two sons are now residing. She became a member of Little House primarily to develop her knowledge of craft work, especially ceramics and weaving.

Little House, the senior activity center established in 1949 by the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc., has as its main purpose the provision of recreation and useful activities for those more than 50 years of age.

'MODEL CENTER'

In carrying out these aims, the Peninsula Volunteers have not only succeeded in setting up an attractive center at 800 Middle avenue, but have also established a facility that is recognized throughout the nation as "the model center for senior citizens."

The membership in 1949 comprised a round dozen nearby residents, who assembled in a "little house," thus the title.

When the present $80,000 building was dedicated in March, 1949, the membership had grown to 400. Today, with a roll call of 1000, Little House reflects its attraction as a useful center and also points out the definite need for such gathering places for our increasing number of senior citizens everywhere.

SCOPE BROADENED

As the membership has grown at Little House, so has the scope of scheduled activities.

Starting in 1949 with a minimum program scheduled, due to the size of building and membership, activities have expanded to include dancing, bridge and canasta, weaving, sewing, painting, Spanish, metalcraft, woodworking, leather work, ceramics, with new classes in millinery and gardening to begin soon.

In addition to classes, the recreation program has enlarged to include dinners, movies, luncheons and a special offering each Thursday afternoon.

The center also assists senior citizens with their housing and employment problems, social security and retirement insurance questions.

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

Mrs. Edward Conn, member of the Peninsula Volunteers and newly elected chairman of Little House, established the employment service a little more than a year ago, and since its inception she and her staff of PV's have been able to place more than 150 persons in full or part-time employment.

Any citizen who is more than 50 years of age and residing in the area may join Little House. There is no financial obligation and no required attendance.

The Peninsula Volunteers are hopeful that each new member will develop the desire to assist and participate in Little House activities, the reward's being "a new lease on life."

MRS. DOROTHY M. BAYNHAM, first vice-president of Little House, and Mrs. John F. Miller, new president of the Peninsula Volunteers, talk over plans for having the county TB X-Ray unit at Little House next Wednesday.

X-RAY UNIT

Mrs. John F. Miller, newly elected president of the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc., has announced that the San Mateo county Tuberculosis association's mobile TB, X-Ray unit will be at Little House next Wednesday from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Littler has been appointed PV staffing chairman, and will be assisted by Mrs. Leonard Evans, Mrs. James Joubert, Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. Howard Jones, Mrs. William Felkner, Mrs. Jordan McCann, Mrs. Charles Fryer and Mrs. N. Dean-Turner.

Mrs. Miller has pointed out to Mrs. Dorothy M. Baynham, first vice president of Little House, the invaluable assistance that this free service has rendered to the citizens of the county. It has helped in diagnosing many types of chest disorders otherwise not discernable, and assures the county health authorities of the good health of its residents.

This unit will be at Little House, 800 Middle avenue, as a public service to all residents of the area. Everyone who can avail himself is urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

FLY-UP TRAINING

A fly-up training course has been calendared by Sequoia Girl Scout area to be given from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. January 25 at the Woodside Community Methodist church, Woodside road and The Alameda.

PROGRAM committee for Sequoia Girl Scouts will gather at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Scout office.

PV ELECTION

At the annual meeting of the Peninsula Volunteers, Inc., held last Friday, a unanimous ballot was cast for the following 1956 officers:

Mrs. John F. Miller, president; Mrs. Leland Kaiser, vice president; Mrs. Edwin Conn, Little House chairman; Mrs. George Keller, recording secretary; Mrs. Sherman Macdonald, Mrs. Douglas Hird and Mrs. Raymond Moran, directors.

Committee chairmen, who were appointed, comprise:

Mrs. Henry N. Kuechler Jr., Mrs. Leland Rosener Jr. and Mrs. Albert Russell, advisory committee; Mrs. Richard Barger, publicity; Mrs. Orville Rey Rule, Little House publicity; Mrs. Gilbert Richards, general promotion.

Mrs. Richard Cutter, membership; Mrs. Richard Decker, scholarship; Mrs. Frank Merrill, ways and means; Mrs. A. Douglas Hird, provisionals; Mrs. Frederick, projects; Mrs. Fred Eyrond, adoption.

Mrs. Clarence Young, television and radio; Mrs. Robert Crosby, mailing and Mrs. Odus Horney, telephone.

'Further Education' Is Ravenswood PTA Subject

"Further education for Retarded Children" was the topic discussed by B. G. Smith of the Health Home Rehabilitation center for handicapped children last night for members of Ravenswood PTA. Smith explained how his center carried on high school education of retarded children, after they have left elementary school classes.

Local Leaguers Join Line-Up Of Mannequins

A trio of local young matrons, members of the Palo Alto unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., are among the two dozen Leaguers chosen to model in the January 25 fashion show.

This annual style spectacular, which benefits the Junior League's Community Trust Fund, will follow 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the Palace hotel. Reservations for "A Galaxy of Fashions," theme of the show, may be made by calling the Palace dining room at EX 2-8600.

The three localites lending their talents are:

Mrs. Frederick G. Knoop (Grace Gilmore) of Atherton, a nurse's aid at Stanford Convalescent home, United Crusade volunteer and tennis enthusiast. Her two children are aged one and two years.

Mrs. John Leddy (Jane Gillespie) of Menlo Park will also model, as she has done in two previous League shows. Activities include two children, sports, work as nurse's aid and in the Next-to-New Shop.

Another Menloite, Mrs. John H. Merryman (Nancy Dyer), will also join the modelling ranks. A tall brunette, she has three sons, is on the board of the United World Federalists, a member of the League of Women Voters and has worked with the foreign students at Stanford.

Also of interest here are two other mannequins, twins Mrs. Thayer Raggio (Olive Rousseau) and Mrs. Rousseau Rosekrans (Rose Marie Rousseau), both alumna of Stanford.

MRS. B. W. Ansell will serve as hostess this evening, as women members of the Menertons evening bridge group assemble at her 640 Hobart street home at 8 p.m.

AMONG Mrs. William Smith's guests to Friday luncheon at the Francisca club preceding the symphony were Mrs. Frank B. Ingersoll of Woodside and Mrs. Silas H. Palmer of Atherton.

Mothers Club of St. Joseph's Readies Annual Rummage Sale

Not "Prince," not "Queen," but "King-sized" are the plans for this year's annual rummage sale to be staged January 19 and 20 by members of the St. Joseph's school Mothers' club.

The location of the event is as yet indefinite, due to a set of circumstances unforeseen by the club; at last report the chairman was renegotiating for Central school.

Doors will open Thursday, January 19, at 10 a.m. and will not close until 9 p.m.; the following day the hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

LAST LOOK

All friends and alumni of St. Josephs' are asked to take a final look in their closets, attics, basements and drawers with the hope of finding additional items to augment the tremendous material already collected. Calls for pick-up service may be made to either Mrs. George Fuerst, DA 2-6339, or Mrs. Roland Fitzgerald, DA 2-9809.

Each department head announces that the quality of her articles is excellent, a source of great satisfaction since the fundraising event has as its purpose financial assistance for the new school building now so near completion.

Mrs. Robert Stickney, general chairman, has as her two aides de camp Mrs. John Heaphy and Mrs. Francis Fitzmaurice, with Mrs. Bryan Turner serving as treasurer.

Department heads are Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, jewelry; Mrs. Dorian Taggart and Mrs. Bennett Valdez, bric-a-brac; Mrs. Donald Stevick and Mrs. Theron Bean, hats; Mrs. Ben Duffy, dishes; Mrs. A. D. Stanker, household.

SKIRTS AND BLOUSES

Mrs. Nick Marcelli has charge of skirts and blouses; Mrs. Robert Campbell and Mrs. W. Grellman, shoes; Mrs. Charles Sciaroni and Mrs. Alfred Wheeler, furniture; Mrs. William Ready, toys.

Mrs. J. Silvester supervises women's wear; Mrs. Paul Zinder, girls' wear; Mrs. Warren Spieker, Mrs. Henry McMicking, Mrs. T. Shine and Mrs. Charles Dompe, boys' wear; Mrs. Richard Liffin and Mrs. M. E. Mack, infants' wear.

Mrs. Russell Wood heads men's suits, shirts and ties; Mrs. William Wreden, books and magazines; Mrs. Thomas Paganini, lingerie and Mrs. Ellis Womack, plants and flowers.

Adult School

The class in braided rug making at Menlo-Atherton adult evening school will be changed from Thursday, 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., to Wednesday, beginning on January 18.

The adult school offers a variety of courses in the arts and crafts such as art and water coloring landscape painting, portraiture and life drawing.

Offered for the first time last quarter was a class in art appreciation, especially recommended to those planning to travel a great deal. Still another newcomer to the department is instruction for youth leaders in special crafts, materials of which are usually found around the house.

More specialized crafts include ceramics, jewelry making and book binding. For further information, call the adult school office at DA 3-4145.

Adult Sewing Course

The Menlo-Atherton adult education sewing classes which meet Monday afternoons from 1 to 4 and Tuesday mornings from 9 to 12 at the East Palo Alto Community church still have room for more sewers, Mrs. Henry Garton, instructor, announces.

Mardi Gras at Bay Meadows Features Top Entertainment

Combining two favorite religious traditions, the Mardi Gras and Father Junipero Serra, founder of the California Missions, is the 13-hour spectacular planned for Saturday, January 28, at the Bay Meadows clubhouse.

Sponsors of the Mardi Gras are parents of students at Serra high, the Catholic high school for boys located in San Mateo. Plans call for transforming the clubhouse into a bit of "old New Orleans," with clowns and wandering troubadors to join the crowds during early afternoon hours.

The doors open at 12 noon, while at 1 p.m. the curtain rises on a series of 15-minute playlets starring top teen talent from various high schools in competition for a cash award. There will also be a selection of games directed by the Fathers club.

At the cocktail hour, 4:30 p.m., a fashion show will provide a quiet interlude in the Turf club. Two Athertonites, Mrs. Gilbert Richards and Mrs. Robert F. Barrett, will lend their talents to the line-up of models displaying casual spring cottons, sport clothes and formal attire, climaxed by a showing of Liebes furs.

Following the show, hot roast beef sandwiches, oysters on the half shell (flown in from New Orleans) and salad will be served.

Launching the evening portion of the Mardi Gras, as yet not completely detailed, will be an 8 p.m. parade of stars emceed by Jack Haley, film and TV comedian.

The list of celebrities includes Betty Lynn, Hollywood songstress; Paul Desmond, impersonator; the Paris Sisters, who were born and reared in San Francisco and Ray Hackett, whose orchestra will provide music for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

GIRL SCOUT Volunteer Trainer's course will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, January 30 and 31 at Peninsula Jewish Community center, Burlingame.

NOTRE DAME college students are planning their annual Winter Formal, to be held this year on Friday, February 10, at the Presidio Officers' club.

Senior Scouts Look Forward To End-of-Month Conference

Senior Girl Scouts from all over San Mateo county will be joining together Saturday, January 28, for their senior conference, this year dubbed "Seniorama."

The event, to take place at Woodhaven, will feature a talk on the history of the county by Bert Werder, distinguished citizen of long-standing within its boundaries.

Other programming includes announcements about the "Cabana" international hostel, Juliette Low birthplace and a special performance staged by the Round-Up Patrol.

The latter group comprises Senior Girl Scouts who will work from now on until the Senior Round-Up to prepare for the day they board a special Girl Scout Round-Up train to Michigan.

Local patrol members are Carol Stevenson, a sophomore at Menlo-Atherton high school, and Darlene Roman, a freshman at Menlo-Atherton. Others are Virginia Lannin of Carlmont, Mary Gillespie, Marge Hart and Judy Bailey of Notre Dame high school.

Encinal PTA: MEETS TODAY

Encinal parents will meet at 1 p.m. today in the school multi-purpose room, following a cafeteria luncheon to acquaint them with the type of food offered their children.

Miss Margaret Breakey, principal of the School for the Deaf in Burlingahe, will be guest speaker, conducting a demonstration class of special training methods. Den 4 of Cub Scout Pak 66 will open the meeting with a flag salute.

Child care will be offered during the gathering.

CCPT Meet In Ravenswood

With health in mind, the 17th district, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, will conduct its day-long meeting on April 9 in the Ravenswood school district.

Mrs. L. E. Engleman, district health chairman, is in charge of the program.

Green Oaks and Kavanaugh PTAs will act as hostess units. A committee consisting of superintendent Stanley O. Schnepple, Mrs. Earl Holtmann, president of Green Oaks PTA, Mrs. Edward L. Gray, president ,Kavanaugh PTA, Robert Guthrie, principal Kavanaugh school, Ronald Weaver, principal Green Oaks junior school, and Mrs. George Woodside, district school lunch supervisor will meet to plan for meeting and lunch facilities in the two multi-purpose rooms.

WWA Lunch Features Youth

The Westminster Women's association of Menlo Park Presbyterian church will hold its January meeting and luncheon next Thursday, January 19, in Fellowship hall. Reservations for the 12:15 p.m. gathering are to be made not later than Tuesday by calling Mrs. A. Logan at DA 3-6303.

The afternoon highlight will be presented by the young people, who will report on the youth program, summer camps and conferences. Miss Mary Brown, director of Christian education, will introduce the participants, who are Susan Estberg, Jill Rudlich, David Hall, Gordon Plaisted and Allan Sundquist.

This should prove of special interest to WWA members, since the association provides four scholarships for these summer conferences.

Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting.

ABC Diet Club Enters 1956 With Two New Area Branches

The ABC (Always Budget Calories) Diet club is starting the new year with three branches in the deep peninsula, result of a "full house" membership of 18 for the initial Menlo Park group.

The Palo Alto club, with seven members at their first meeting and 12 prospectives to be at the next, have elected as officers Mrs. Elizabeth Field, president; Mrs. Lucille Correia, vice president; Mrs. Jean Moses, secretary and Mrs. H. Challenger, treasurer.

Anyone in this area interested in joining the Palo Alto club (alternative to closed membership in the Menlo group) may call Mrs. Field at DA 5-5341, or Mrs. Correia at DA 2-2562. Meetings are held on Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The Redwood City group has met only once, with three members attending; as yet, no officers have been elected.

Would-be reducers who are interested in becoming members of this club may contact Mrs. Alan C. Briggs, EM 8-5238, 1251 Fernside avenue.

Brownies 204

Second grade Brownies from St. Raymond's school were invested Tuesday afternoon during the traditional ceremony witnessed by mothers in the "little white cottage" on school grounds.

Members of the brand new Troop 204 are Ann Andrews, Pauline Angelo, Lynn Blessman, Connie Collier, Pat McCarthy, Dorothy Miner, Eugenia Moore, Catthryn Orgain, Mary Kate Pulis, Katherine Singer and Caralee Williams.

Mrs. Robert B. Williams is troop leader, aided by Mrs. N. M. Andrews, co-leader.

Cynthia Cornish's Engagement Announced from Beverly Hills

Of interest in this area is the news from Dr. and Mrs. George C. Stevens of Beverly Hills that her daughter, Cynthia Cornish, will become the bride of Patrick Nowlan of Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Cynthia, daughter of the late Herbert James Cornish Jr., met her fiance last April when she traveled to Wolfsville to be bridesmaid at the wedding of her brother, Herbert James (Jim) III, to Sylvia-Anne Fairn; Patrick served as one of the ushers.

A graduate of Castilleja and Stanford, the bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Baldwin de Golia of San Francisco and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Cornish of Montrose, Colorado. She is the niece of Mrs. Norman Silberling of Palo Alto and of Harold de Golia of Atherton.

The prospective benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nowlan of Wolfville and Ottawa, is a member of the Canadian Parliament and practices law in Halifax. He was graduated from Dalhousie university in Halifax.

Cynthia and Patrick will be married this spring, returning to Halifax to live.

SEQUOIA area Girl Scout board meeting is slated for 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Scout office.

Coffee Hours

A series of morning coffee hour has been announced by Mrs. Fred Cribbins, international relations committee chairman for Menlo Atherton branch AAUW.

The new activity allows small groups of the university women to get together informally with wives of foreign students and professors, who are guests of the branch committee. Any AAUW member may participate, and may obtain further information from Mrs. Cribbins, DA 2-5995.
